Secretary Bevin Plans To Keep Cabinet Post

No Indication He Will Re-sign Despite Close Vote In House Of Commons

PALESTINE POLICY IS UNDER ATTACK

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 27.—British Foreign Secretary Bevin, victor in the House of Commons on his Palestine policy by an extremely narrow margin, stood by his guns today with no indication of quitting the cabinet.

His colleagues met in another special session at 10 Downing Street to consider the entire Middle East situation in the wake of last night's close vote in parliament.

To Remain In Cabinet

Observers said that although Bevin has been placed in a "difficult position" he will remain in the cabinet. Some 60 members of his party refused to support him yesterday, and parliament endorsed the present government by one of the narrowest margins it has received since it took power in 1945—90 votes.

It was recalled that when a similar situation confronted the late Neville Chamberlain, after the debate on Norway in 1940, he promptly resigned, despite an 81-vote majority.

But Bevin's power as a vote getter, stemming from his trades union record, plus Prime Minister Attlee's statement that he had full cabinet backing, were believed sufficient to enable him to maintain his position.

With Misgivings

Nevertheless, many labor party M. P.'s openly declared today that they voted for the government only with the "greatest misgivings."

Another of the better known older homes of the city, on North Mercer street, the Uher homestead, located between Grant and Lincoln avenues, is being transformed into a modern apartment building.

Standards which were erected in December between Croton avenue and County Line streets on East Washington for the installation of the addition to the white way lighting system, still await the attachment of the lights.

On January 27, a year ago, Lawrence county was in the midst of a bitter cold spell with the weather ranging during the week from 21 below to just a few degrees above zero. The district was also digging out of a 13-inch snow according to the record.

Use of new route 422 between New Castle and the state line is being made by interurban buses while other buses which pick up passengers between the city and New Bedford, make use of the old route. For some time after the new road was opened, the buses used the old traffic route due to interstate commerce laws.

Many residents of the city are taking advantage of the good weather in getting repairs made to the roofs of their houses. Few roofers about the city can ever recall when they ever have been able to do extensive roof repairing in mid-winter.

College students about the district are in the midst of mid-year exams. Those living in close proximity to their homes from the various schools, have been enabled to

Start Lawrence County Blood Bank

Miss Jacqualina Burns (left) assists operating room supervisor, Miss Elizabeth Taylor Wednesday afternoon in taking blood from J. G. Spencer at the Jameson Memorial hospital for the blood bank being started here. Talking to Mr. Spencer is Dr. James E. Crawford, one of the doctors who directed the blood bank. Also seen in the picture is Paul D. Mooney who was among the first to give blood.

Lawrence county's first supply of whole blood under the new Red Cross blood donor program was made available Wednesday afternoon when 17 pints of blood were drawn from volunteers and typed for use in the three hospitals of the county.

The blood is for the use of all three hospitals in the county but because of more ample facilities, the actual drawing and storing of the blood is currently being done at the Jameson hospital.

Each of Wednesday's donors had originally been typed by Miss Kathleen Angelelli, Red Cross blood technician. Efforts were made to secure a small supply of each type, and the blood drawn yesterday was subjected to several more tests before being stored according to type in the new refrigerator for that purpose at the hospital.

First Donors

Paul D. Mooney of Mooney Brothers Supply company was the first donor. He was accompanied by eight other employees from the Mooney Brothers firm who contributed one pint of blood each.

The teachers approved these recommendations to the school board when the New Castle chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association met in the senior high school Wednesday night.

A flat increase for every teacher and principal will be asked, although no amount was suggested. The matter of inequities among holders of bachelor of arts degrees came up for discussion. It was said that there are 23 teachers in the New Castle schools holding

Schools Get Six Tons Of Spuds

Sent To City Schools Without Cost From Government Surplus Stock

There's plenty of potatoes in the cellar today. For the public schools that is.

From governmental surplus, the school system has received over six tons of potatoes free and the spuds are stored in the Lawrence school and in a local commission house.

Cheese Also
In addition to the potatoes the schools received 275 pounds of cheese which was fed to grade school children with their morning milk allowance.

When the New Castle school system took on the state aided lunch program for Franklin junior high school it was said that at various times there would be surplus foods

'Hay-Bombing' Planes Center Attention On Saving Herds In Nebraska Today

ADDITIONAL PLANES JOINING RELIEF

DENVER, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The U. S. Air Force massed more planes and men today for the grim all-out battle to save by "operation feedlift" upwards of two million western cattle and sheep from starvation.

Sleet-covered central Nebraska, in the vicinity of Kearney, received a priority role for the "hay-bombing" planes.

In the face of weather bureau forecasts of snow or sleet for the western Nebraska area, 20 planes were manned for flights from Denver to drop hay and feed concentrates to the snow-bound livestock.

Ten were C-47 craft and 10 were C-47 planes, all from the Ninth Air Force at the Greenville, S. C., Air Force base.

An additional ten Ninth Air Force ships were expected at Lowry Air Force base at Denver.

Open Hearings On Measure Boosting Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The house labor committee launches action today on President Truman's fair deal program by opening hearings on a bill to boost the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

First witnesses called were Secretary of Labor Tobin and wage-hour administrator William R. McComb.

Much of McComb's power would be transferred to Tobin in the proposed legislation which is backed by the labor department. The measure would place the wage and hour administration under the labor department and would give Tobin full authority to define policy and interpret regulations under the act.

House Committee Urges Outlawing Of Communist Party

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The house un-American activities committee of the 80th congress charged today that "espionage and treasonable activity" is the sole purpose of the Communist party in the United States.

The charge was contained in a belated final report which reviewed the activities of the committee during the past congress and recommended that the Communist party be outlawed. Only three members who served during the last two years are now on the committee in the present 81st congress.

Primary Purposes

Citing the Communist espionage disclosures made by Whittaker Chambers and Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, the report declared: "The espionage now before us establishes beyond a doubt that

Rent Controls Protest Grows

Mass Eviction Campaign To Protest Controls Is Increasing

OFFICIAL WARNS OF COURT ACTION

(By International News Service)

A mass eviction campaign to protest rent controls mushroomed today among the nation's property owners but a federal official warned of possible prosecution if the action were carried out.

Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods said in Washington that the "landlord revolt" initiated in Tulsa, Okla., by the Property Owners Association of America was a possibility.

Woods declared that he has been advised that courts have upheld the interpretation that the "good faith" clause of the rent control law provides enough authority to stop the revolt.

Demand Halt At Tulsa

He acted as the CIO demanded steps to stop imminent eviction of 500 to 1,000 tenants in Tulsa, and as a property owner's group compared the revolt to the Boston tea party.

Meanwhile, aroused landlords threatened to fall in line with the Tulsa group. Property owners in Chicago, Milwaukee, Denver, St. Louis and Kansas City said they were in favor of the idea.

In Milwaukee, landlords reported they were voting whether to send out more than 3,000 eviction notices.

Denver property owners, controlling some 5,000 housing units, said they would withdraw from business and evict all their tenants if federal rent controls are extended beyond next March 31.

Communists Up Their Price For Peace In China

Demand Arrest Of 50 Additional Nationalist Leaders As "War Criminals"

REDS SIEGE FORCES MASS ON YANGTZE

(BULLETIN)

NANKING, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The Chinese Communists upped their price for peace today and dealt a severe blow to Nationalist hopes of ending hostilities before Red armies smashed into China's heartland.

Red siege forces massed along the Yangtze's north bank for anticipated cross-river assaults upon panic-ridden Nanking and Shanghai.

Simultaneously, the Communist radio stiffened the Red surrender terms by demanding the arrest of 50 additional Kuomintang (Nationalist) leaders as "war criminals."

Evacuating Nanking

In the face of this stern demand, the government disclosed its evacuation of Nanking will be completed next Thursday when the executive Yuan (cabinet) will cease functioning in the Red-threatened capital.

That body, it was announced, will take up its duties in Canton February 15, and the southern metropolis then will be the Nationalist emergency capital.

Observers believed that, unless a settlement ending the civil war can be reached, the Nationalists may attempt to organize further resistance against the Communists south of the Yangtze. All China

Judge Moves To Speed Up Trial

Rules Against Permitting Defense To Call Any More Jurors As Witnesses

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina moved today to speed up the conspiracy trial of 11 top-ranking officials of the Communist party.

He ruled he would not permit the defense to call any more petit jurors to support its contention that the federal jury system in New York is "a rich man's club" and excludes Negroes, Jews and manual laborers.

A score of jurors—most of them members of the grand jury which indicted the Communists—were paraded to the stand yesterday and the defense called more of them today.

Arthur Mometer

My neighbor is ambitious, quite, he works by day and off by night he helps in cleaning walls, but when the snow is off the ground and ice and sleet can not be found and frost is far away, he likes to rake his garden plot, and clean out hedges and some spots he finds around the flowers. He feels the winter passed us by and so my neighbor says he'll try to beat the gun to spring, and he can't sit and rock and smoke, and be an idle sort of bloke, when robins start to sing. But he may be mistaken yet, we'll have some snow ere long I bet, and all this weather fine, will be forgotten with the sleet which will pile up on walk and street and I'll hear him pine, I jumped the gun, but probably it would have been as well, to wait, it's thirty nine today.

Lions Hear Of New Blood Bank

Blood Donor Program Of American Red Cross Is Explained To Members

MANY VOLUNTEER TO GIVE BLOOD

New Castle Lions club members heard all the facts about the new blood donor program, which gets underway here today, when a picture was shown entitled, "A Life in Your Hand," followed by an explanation of the program by Dr. W. E. Flannery, president of the Red Cross board.

Dr. Flannery explained that the blood will be kept in storage in a refrigerator here, and will be available for the use of everyone in the county.

Heretofore, it has been necessary to call on relatives or professional blood donors when blood was needed but it will be instantly available under this new program, which will be a volunteer program. Approximately five pints per hospital bed are needed annually here, or around 1,200 pints.

Charge Is Necessary
While there will be a charge for the blood, it will be much less than the cost would have been under the old method. It will be necessary to purchase a refrigerator to store the blood in, and also equipment necessary to process it. The physician or surgeon will be entitled to his regular fee for administering it. The hospital will pay the blood bank a rate of around $5.50 per pint for the blood but this will be much cheaper than the $25 which has been the customary fee for donors, Dr. Flannery stated.

Following the meeting a large number of members signed up to contribute to the blood bank and they will be called upon at a later date.

Blood will be made available to the Ellwood City hospital under the program also and it will be stored here and sent to Ellwood City as needed.

Visitors at yesterday's meeting included D. A. McConnell, of Cincinnati; A. G. Hawkins, of New Castle, and Larry Howe, of Erie, a former member of the local club. William Grannis was admitted to the club as a new member.

Library Has New Books On War Memoirs

War memoirs and reminiscences have filled several fine books during 1948 and many readers may now obtain these books.

Among these books is Winston Churchill's "Gathering Storm." The time prime minister's memoirs will be extended into five volumes. The book covers the period of false peace before the fighting and up to Dunkirk. His style is clear and elegant.

Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe" is an orderly, objective account of the war in Western Europe. It provides notable studies of Roosevelt, Marshall and Churchill, also the stormy Patton and Montgomery.

The "Stillwell Papers" cover the period from December, 1941, to October, 1944, when General Stilwell was relieved of his command. They are based on the general's private field diaries, the "black notebook" in which he wrote his thoughts and reflection, and excerpts from his letters to his wife, Theodore H. White arranged the papers with the help of Mrs. Stilwell. He points out that the material is written in the hard sharp language of command and does not show the warm generous side of the general's character.

All these books and others on similar subjects in the war era may be borrowed from the public library.

NU PHI MU HAS INSTALLATION

A formal full course dinner was enjoyed by members of the Nu Phi Mu Sorority, Wednesday evening, in a local dining room. The table was prettily appointed and was centered with a bouquet of pink rose buds, the traditional flower of the sorority. Miss Camille Augustine acted as toastmistress and called upon the new pledges, officers, Mrs. James Uber and Mrs. Donald Copson who all responded graciously.

Following the delicious dinner, a beautifully impressive candle-light installation of new pledges was held. Mrs. Donald Copson, registrar and representative of Nu Phi Mu for New Castle, installed the new pledges, assisted by Mrs. James Uber, advisor of the group. There were four new pledges installed, and received their ribbons. They are: Margaret Sanders, Barbara Johnson, Loretta Donati and Mrs. William Eroe. Three girls who have completed their instruction and therefore received their pins last evening, were Mary Lou Nelson, Nancy Sadler and Alda Ticecone.

Miss Jacqueline Sines was installed as vice president to replace Miss Connie Branstetter, who has resigned.

Following the installation the balance of the evening was spent playing games, with prizes going to the Misses Alda Ticecone and Lois Beard and Mrs. William Eroe. Miss Camille Augustine was in charge of the arrangements for the evening, with a committee made up of the Misses Ruth Sanfilippo and Delores Cuscino.

The next meeting will be in the home of Miss June Thompson, 913 Warren avenue, February 1.

EAST BROOK GARDEN CLUB ENJOYS FILMS

A tureen dinner was enjoyed, Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock, by the East Brook Garden Club, in the East Brook Methodist church.

Following a delicious dinner a program of motion picture films was presented by Mrs. James G. Crawford, of New Castle. Mrs. Crawford showed a series of films taken in '41, while on a trip through New Orleans, Central America and Guatemala. She also showed several reels of film taken while in New Orleans, in '47, at the Mardi Gras. Mrs. Crawford then showed her most recently filmed pictures, those being of the life of an orchid. Following it from seed until it is seen in large and beautiful bloom proved most interesting to the ladies. Mrs. Crawford showed them the habits of the orchid and told of its history. The last few reels shown all dealt principally with the large and beautiful blooms of the hybrid orchid.

Following this most interesting program, a brief business period was conducted by the president. Committees for the coming year were appointed and names for secret sisters were drawn.

Arrangements for the evening's meeting were under the direction of the social committee.

The next meeting of the club will be February 22, in the home of Mrs. Frank Krause, of the Harbor-East Brook road.

Premier Gurion's Party Strongest In Jewish State

TEL AVIV, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Premier David Ben Gurion has virtually a free hand today in reorganizing Israel's government after his Mapai—Moderate Labor—party emerged as the strongest group in the Jewish State.

Observers believed that Ben Gurion will organize a coalition with the labor elements of the Orthodox religious parties and the Mapai, a more leftist labor group. The Mapai, despite charges that it bowed too frequently to the wishes of Washington and London, polled 34.4 per cent of the vote in the last returns posted by the government.

perished looting of occupied countries—have been smuggled to Italy, France and Switzerland at fabulous profits.

In Berlin, army agents confiscated today 29 cases of ball-bearings, a critical German product, which they believed destined for the Soviet zone. No arrests have been made yet in connection with the seizure.

Fantastic methods of smuggling have been uncovered by the army investigators. They have found that German garages equipped U. S. cars with gold and silver radiator grilles, platinum fenders, gold and silver ornaments and special concealed compartments.

These cars were then driven across western European borders by members of the ring, ostensibly on vacation tours.

'AXIS SALLY' IS ON WITNESS STAND

1946, searched it, and later found seven recordings of the "Midge At The Mike" program which the American woman broadcast for the Nazis.

Winzen explained that the recordings were found in a basement storage room of a nearby apartment building.

Defense Attorney James J. Laughlin then dramatically asked permission to place the slender, gray-haired but still fiery "Sally" on the stand.

Miss Gillars, speaking in a low voice and in "cultured" accents, testified that Winzen searched her apartment without a warrant. She declared that even though she was not living in the place at the time it was hers, since she had paid the rent for it.

HOUSE COMMITTEE URGES OUTLAWING OF COMMUNIST PARTY

espionage and treasonable activity against these United States is, in fact, the primary purpose of the organization."

The report charged that the outlawing of the party and its front organizations and "controlled unions" merely serve to:

1. Enlist new recruits for the primary, underground, espionage apparatus.
2. Lend an idealistic camouflage to "this sinister, conspiratorial apparatus."
3. Act as a "protective defense mechanism."
4. Provide it with funds and other resources."

Urges Legislation

The committee recommended that the new congress quickly pass legislation outlawing the party such as the Mundt-Nixon bill which was approved by the house last session but died in the senate.

The committee also urged that the espionage laws be "substantially strengthened" with means being provided for deporting aliens who are convicted of crimes, that the penalty for contempt of congress be increased to a minimum of five years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine and that immigration laws be studied to prevent "disloyal elements" from entering the country.

The report criticized the fact that only one indictment—that of Alger Hiss on two counts of perjury—resulted from the committee's spy disclosures.

MORE PLANES ARE MASSES IN BATTLE TO SAVE BIG HERDS

The Continental Air Command had alerted both the Ninth Air Force and the 12th Air Force at Brooks Air Force base in San Antonio, Tex., for additional planes to carry on the work of "operation feed-lift."

Meanwhile, Deputy Livestock Inspector Gordon Sanford of Casper, Wyo., said there is no possible way to determine livestock losses "until after the spring thaws start."

Many of the lost cattle and sheep are still buried under snow drifts.

James A. Hooper of the Utah Wool Growers Association, said that the situation is "worse" in Utah because of the "cumulative effect of the three weeks of extreme weather."

Losses in the nine blizzard-paralyzed states from Nebraska to Nevada have been estimated variously at between $80 million and a quarter billion dollars.

Marshal Zhukov Directing?
(The London News Chronicle reported that foreign military observers in Nanking believe Marshal Georgia Zhukov, Soviet conqueror of Berlin, is presently in Mongolia directing a military campaign against China's Nationalist forces.)

(The paper said it is believed a "secret arrangement" has been made between the Kremlin and the Communist command in north China.)

The Communist demand for the "detention" of 50 accused "war criminals," in addition to a previous list of Nationalist leaders marked for "punishment," came in answer to a new government appeal for a cease-fire.

A government spokesman in Nanking charged the Reds with "resorting to delaying tactics and prolonging the hostilities."

At the same time, a competent source interpreted the new Red broadcast as a stinging of the already severe "surrender" terms embodied in the eight-point Communist "peace ultimatum."

President Chiang Kai-shek, who fled Nanking last Friday leaving behind a "caretaker" regime under Vice President Li Tsung-Jen, headed the original Communist list of so-called "war criminals."

They stressed to the government their opposition to Bevin's Middle-East program.

One labor member, Dr. Samuel Segal, was revealed to have joined Conservatives and Liberals in voting against Bevin, although Attlee declared his government at stake in the balloting.

It was clearly recognized that Bevin failed to muster a majority in the House of Commons, which has 640 members.

Some of Bevin's friends, meanwhile, are saying privately that he will ask to be relieved from office when the next cabinet reshuffle takes place.

Churchill Attacks
Bevin, still recovering from the fierce attacks on his Palestine policy led by Winston Churchill in parliament yesterday, was reportedly hopeful of arranging simultaneous recognition of the Jewish State by all five western union nations.

The House of Commons, with a number of Laborites joining Conservatives and Liberals in attacks on Bevin, administered the sharpest rebuke British foreign policy has suffered since the labor government took power in 1945.

On an adjournment vote which Prime Minister Clement Attlee warned would be considered a vote of confidence, Bevin's Middle East program was approved 283 to 193.

More than 50 Laborites refused to support their foreign minister and abstained, giving him a majority of about 100.

The vote came after Bevin had declared that Israel's existence is a fact, that Britain had long ago decided to recognize it, and that only the question of timing the recognition remained.

But Winston Churchill, using some of his most scathing rhetoric, condemned Bevin's policy as one of "folly, futility, and fatuity" and accused Bevin of side-stepping the issue.

Used In Cafeterias
The potatoes are being used in the cafeterias of the Franklin junior high school, Washington junior and senior high school. From the appearance of things there will be potatoes to last until the end of school.

Under the state aided lunch program the state pays nine cents per plate for students and the students pay the balance. The total cost to the students is 25 cents for a thirty-four cent plate.

The milk goes to the school building every morning and the state pays two cents a bottle towards this.

TEACHERS PROTEST 'OVER-EMPHASIS' OF ATHLETICS

duced a lop sided sense of value among the student body, teachers have greater difficulty in dealing with minds constantly distracted by a heated athletic program; problems of school discipline arose through overemphasis of athletics and finally the building up of a sense of frustration among teachers who are eager to do a high type of work with their classes.

Some Discussion
Before the vote was taken some discussion was had by the teachers present. William L. Klee, an assistant football coach said he could see no reason why athletics were singled out when time from classes was allowed for forensics, music and band contests.

P. H. Bridenbaugh, head football coach said that while the coaches were excused from classes during the ninth period, they were still in charge of the students engaged in football and worked with them.

Recommendations
The vote was taken with the result shown above. The recommendations which will be handed to the school board follow:

The permission to publish an academic honor roll should be returned to the high schools.

An annual assembly honoring high honor students should be part of the program of each school.

The present assembly for each of the two groups into which the senior high school is divided should be held in the gymnasium at the beginning and end of the football season. Double pep assemblies should not occupy more time than one period. Such pep assemblies should not take the time of regularly scheduled class periods.

Class of athletic tickets should be held during lunch periods or after school, in the charge of the men paid for business management.

No bonuses should be voted by the Board because of financial profits shown from the activities of teachers who have merely done what they were hired to do: as in athletics, drama.

There should be definite and drastic limitation on announcements about the inter-scholastic games both on school bulletins and by the public address system.

Present school buildings should be modernized and an adequate salary adjustment made before the school district is asked to contribute to a program of special sport privilege for a comparative few.

Since the fact that the present football program has been largely developed by the public, the Board should take measures to develop an athletic program that will serve the school and the objectives of public education.

As an object lesson for our young citizens in responsible accounting for public funds, an itemized report of receipts and disbursements should be published after each football game.

Since it will be felt that our costly in view of the fact that the school should be able to make up to pay dividends, it should be recognized that it is a perpetual threat, to the complete integrity of the educational program of this city.

Because of the many phases involved in this problem of the over-emphasis on competitive, interscholastic athletics, it is recommended that a committee of teachers chosen by the P. S. E. A. meet with the Board or a committee of the Board to confer on these troubled problems.

bachelor of arts degrees who are getting $150 less per year than other teachers holding the same degree, but who have received the degree in the past year. This it was pointed out was the result of vagueness in the salary bill passed by the General Assembly in 1947.

It was voted to ask the school board to remedy these inequities and to make the adjustments retroactive to the beginning of the present school year.

J. H. Earl McKenzie reported for the legislative committee and said several bills were in the offing. One would revise the retirement system and provide that a teacher who serves 35 years may retire at half pay. Another will establish a new salary base for teachers.

Mr. McKenzie reminded the teachers that more salaries will mean more taxes and asked that teachers to support any tax bill which may be presented in the General Assembly.

Probe Mystery Shooting And Auto Accident

McKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Police today were investigating a mysterious shooting and automobile accident in McKeesport which claimed the life of one brother and hospitalized another.

Officers said that William Harper, 30, of 1400 Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, was found shot to death in the wreckage of the car 20 minutes before his brother, Jesse, 27, also of 117 Third street, McKeesport, was admitted to a hospital with a bullet wound in his left arm.

Police said the automobile zig-zagged 70 feet downhill out of control before crashing into a tree and a curb.

Found in the car was a shotgun, with two shells spent, and a rifle with one shell spent.

The dead brother was shot in the left chest.

Police quoted Jesse Harper as saying he was wounded accidentally during an argument with his brother, though police could not determine immediately how the older brother was killed.

BABY IS BADLY BURNED BY SOUP

Little John Seybert, aged one year, of 2236 Perryville avenue, Pittsburgh, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, for treatment of burns about the face, neck, chest, and back, received when hot soup was spilled over the upper part of the body.

The little tot received his injuries while visiting in the home of friends at Leesburg.

Seven Persons Watch Man As He Wounds Self

TURTLE CREEK, Pa., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Seven persons watched a Turtle Creek man shoot himself today in the left shoulder in a Turtle Creek restaurant.

Police identified him as John O'Hara, of 538 Church street, Turtle Creek. He was reported in a fair condition at the Braddock General hospital.

Police said the man walked into the restaurant, and said to a woman: "Did you ever see anyone shoot himself?"

Witnesses said he then took a gun from his pocket and fired it at himself. He was said to be despondent because he is separated from his wife.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Taft and those who think like him would steer a cautious course in the 81st Congress. As he has done before, the Ohio senator will support education, housing and a limited form of medical aid.

He recognizes that these and similar reforms long advocated will cost additional money. But he believes that with economies elsewhere it will be possible to avoid a tax increase. Senate Taft will stoutly oppose any additional levy on business or on individuals.

This cautious wait-and-see approach implies a belief that there will be a strong reaction to the extremes of the Truman program. Thanks in considerable part to that anticipated reaction the Republicans believe they will capture control of the Senate in 1950. They believe their chances are good for taking Democratic seats in California, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Utah and Washington.

No matter how fine or brave or angry the words spoken here, the balance of power is likely to rest with the Republicans in Congress. It is their bacon that is at stake.

Another defeat in '50 would make the chances for the presidential year of 1952 look slim. And a party out of power 20 years is not a lame duck, it is a dead duck.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

discomfort or malfunction of these organs."

Psychological Needs
"Good mental health," says Dr. Menninger, "is directly related to the capacity and willingness of an individual to play." He says that certain forms of recreation meet at least three psychological needs. 1. Competitive games, such as sports and sedentary intellectual games, provides a wholesome outlet for instinctive aggressive drives. 2. Making things for fun satisfies the creative or constructive drive. 3. Relaxation through entertainment catering to passing desires may provide opportunity for vicarious participation.

Of course, looking at a philosophy and practice of education for promoting good mental and emotional health, active participation is far better, as a rule, than more passive entertainment. In spite of the effects of our schools, the commercialized sports, the movies, radio and television tend to reduce individual participation in games, music, drama, and making things with the hands for fun. Parents can do something, by providing the young child with materials and tools, making things with him, and appreciating his creations. (My bulletin, "Letting Little Children Learn", may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.) THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES out of net profits. If the profits are absorbed in taxes, then the program may not materialize.

Inconsistent Economics
Mr. Truman's proposal of a fifty billion dollar industrial expansion program, it may be said, was not unreasonable; it may require that sum to bring production into line with demand in the face of our tremendous growth in population and our enormously increased spending capacity. But to demand such a program and in the same breath demand excessive taxation on industry is utterly inconsistent with economic sense. If funds are to be supplied for adequate industry expansion they can come from only two sources. One is from reserves, the other from reinvestment of shareholders and bondholders. If taxes sap the reserves, if they limit investors' returns to a discouraging level, there can be no reasonable hope of such expansion.

The late Wendell Wilkie expressed a truth that ought always to be present in the minds of congress and executive when he said that what American industry most needs is a "friendly atmosphere" in which to work. Such an atmosphere will do many times more to meet the problems of inflation and living costs than any amount of legislation or controls.

Robbery Attempt Charged To Trio

George Johnson, of the First Ward, Blanch Stewart, South Beaver street, and Lillian Fears, known as Lilli Belle, West Falls street, are charged by Wilbur Germani, West Pittsburg, with aggravated assault and battery, and attempt robbery before Alderman Claude Mantz.

The Fears woman has not yet been apprehended. The man is in jail, and Blanche Stewart was released on her own recognition, because it is believed by police she was not seriously involved.

The trio sat together in a West Side restaurant, after which Johnson, the Fears woman and Germani went to Lawrence street, where it is charged Johnson attacked Germani and allegedly attempted to rob him. Germani fought back and they fled.

Germani returned to West Washington street, where he collapsed in front of the restaurant where he had been with the trio, and was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital where he was treated for injuries received in the fight.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY
Policeman Edward Kovach found windows in the Brown Feed store, Produce street, and Frey Bros., South Mill streets, had been scratched with some instrument last night. The scratches were made as though with a glass cutter. It is believed an attempted robbery was staged.

POLICEMAN ALERT

Policeman Frank Pszeny heard a "pounding" in Strouss-Hirshberg's, at 4:15 a. m. today, notified police headquarters and Manager Jack Huston was summoned. Mr. Huston found the noise came from the heating system, which had become disarranged.

City firemen were called to South and Mercer streets this morning, due to a mixup in instructions regarding a phone call. An employee of a garage in that area was asked to call a friend at Central fire station, and when given the message, thought some-

ON HIS OWN

With the presidential inauguration a matter of history, President Truman may now be said to be "on his own" so far as his duties as chief executive are concerned.

During his first fractional term Mr. Truman was the successor to President Roosevelt, having had no election by the people of the country to the presidential office. It was said, therefore, that he was under some obligation to follow the policies of his predecessor.

Furthermore, Mr. Truman was handicapped in having his own way during the last two years of his term by the election of a Republican Congress in 1946. He was unable to get some of his ideas across, and was compelled to abide by tax and labor laws which were unpalatable to him when they were passed over his veto.

Mr. Truman now has a Democratic House and Senate to deal with and should be able to get his own way most of the time, although it is not to be forgotten that he had some trouble with the Democratic Congress which was elected in 1944. It is also true that he can now make his own policies and is under no obligation to follow those of the late President Roosevelt. The fact is, of course, that he shows no inclination to deviate from the leftist New Deal line unless he swings still further to the left. We need not, therefore, expect a change of course on the part of the new Truman administration, rather an acceleration of the New Deal pace which could take us to socialism even more quickly.

All of this is indicated by the President's speeches during the campaign, as well as by his messages to the Eighty-First Congress. Congress may serve as a brake now and then, although one Democratic statesman was given authority for the remark recently that this Congress would be the most radical on record.

Nobody knows, of course, just how it is going to come out. A great deal may depend on the fortunes of business during the next year or so. New Deal enthusiasts are confident we will continue on the highroad of inflationary prosperity. They base their predictions on increased government spending due to our commitments abroad and our enlarging our defenses at home.

Other economists are not quite so sure, although few believe there will be any collapse at this time comparable to that of the early thirties. But they point out that things are already beginning to look a trifle frayed at the edges. But in any event, Mr. Truman is now on his own.

WOULD KEEP FREEDOM TRAIN

In its 16-month tour of the United States, the Freedom Train more than justified the belief of its sponsors that Americans would respond overwhelmingly to an opportunity to view the documents which are milestones in the development of this nation and its liberties.

The train visited 324 cities and towns, some of them twice. More than 3,500,000 persons went aboard to see the priceless writings, and many more were turned away because there was neither time nor space to accommodate them all.

This intense interest in the historic papers carries its own reward to the sponsors of the trip. But the nation can not expect private organizations to continue to bear the cost of future journeys.

Bipartisan resolutions to permit the government to operate the Freedom Train have been introduced in both houses of Congress. The estimated cost of $2,500,000 is not too much to invest in a project designed to foster interest in our heritage of freedom.

The Freedom Train should be a permanent exhibit, making annual tours of the country, and Congress should make this possible.

HOW MUCH SPEED

If there is any virtue in speed, aviation has great days ahead. Jet propulsion is in its infancy but is coming along fast. Air transportation heads sea, in six or eight years, flight of such celerity that a passenger will be transported across this continent in four hours and across the Atlantic in six. He will ride in pressurized cabins at 40,000 feet.

The industry is making great strides, not of its own volition but as a rider on the government's military air development program. Enough gadgets and craft are being tested in air laboratories as a part of the military program to assure some extra special commercial vehicles in the future.

After jets, what? Rocket planes at 1,500 miles an hour? When and if they are achieved, there will be little opportunity for advancement in negotiating distance more quickly except possibly through thought transference.

One thing they had back in the Horse and Buggy Days would come in handy in Washington now—a watchdog of the treasury.

Scientists have perfected a pain-killer which is six times more effective than morphine. This is going to come in handy for day-after-the-election headaches.

Many economists used to advocate a protective tariff so we could keep our money at home. But things are different now. We no longer keep our money at home, and wouldn't even if we had 100 per cent tariff protection.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

British Foreign Secretary Bevin's pledge of support to European unity and of improving the status of backward nations aroused world attention today but seemed destined for a mixed reception.

In his address at a London luncheon, Bevin went out of the way to refute charges that Britain is insincere in its backing of a federated Europe.

As a matter of fact, he said he wanted to create a real European unity as "the crowning glory" of his political career.

The position of Great Britain with regard to an eventual United States of Europe or something resembling such a federation is somewhat peculiar.

Obviously the British are unwilling to do anything that would weaken their own commonwealth. And they have a history-long reputation for favoring economic and trade agreements while supporting collective security when feasible.

But Bevin announced without hesitation when the east-west split first developed that Britain would return to regional security pacts if the need arose.

What Defense Pact Is

That is exactly what the western union defense pact is at the present time and will so remain until broadened into the north Atlantic security agreement, which will be regional also to the extent of embracing the entire western world.

The idea of a federated Europe, a cultural, economic and intellectual entity rather than a purely defensive one, is strongly favored by Winston Churchill.

Yet he rages at the slightest sacrifice of British national sovereignty, as he did over the abandonment of Palestine, India and Burma.

It never has been clearly explained how Britain proposes to maintain the status quo and still transplant herself to become an integral part of a European system instead of the "moated island" that she is.

The lack of clarity was brought out when negotiations were in progress for formation of the western union defense committee of which Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery was made chairman.

Tremendous Pressure

There was tremendous pressure by groups in England for establishment of the main quarters in London. France objected strenuously and a compromise was reached with establishment of three headquarters—the main one at Paris, a command center in London and an advance base in Luxembourg.

There is a certain element of ambiguity also concerning Bevin's pledge to aid backward nations.

By pulling out of Palestine and granting dominion status to India and Pakistan, the British abdicated just such responsibilities on a number of grounds.

One was simply that Britain had carried "the white man's burden" just about long enough.

Another was that the Israelis were bound to win their independence even at the cost of British blood, while in the case of India and Pakistan the labor regime simply was making good the promises made by conservative and coalition governments long ago.

Added to these was the fact that Britain desperately needed her manpower at home to aid in the

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

For goodness' sakes!

Here I was going to write a learned column telling you all about the sensational fact that scientists have at last been able to see genes, the tiny carriers of heredity in all living things.

Then my eye lights on a headline which reads "New French Hats Have Coffee Bean, Flower Pot Shapes".

So I say to myself, "Nine people out of ten certainly are more interested in ladies' hats that look like coffee beans than in genes."

That is what I say to myself and so, naturally, this is going to be a column about ladies' hats.

And gentlemen, if you think ladies' hats have been crazy heretofore, well—you ain't seen nothing yet, to paraphrase Al Jolson.

The millinery show for spring is now being held at the Hotel Biltmore in New York.

Here are a few of the exhibits from France which are attracting an enormous amount of interest.

A flower pot, so called, which, as the professional description says, poses a higher, stiffer crown above your forehead. It has a tiny brim and a small harvest of flowers somewhere on the silhouette.

The coffee bean hat is small, flat on top and widened from side to side, often balancing bows and bouquets. It can be tilted to taste.

And here is something that sounds like a nightmare to me, but, according to my wife, is very chic: "A realistic flower pot by Maud Roser is a lacquer red straw, with red violets and a green veil. Le-gros's flower pot introduces a new pearlized straw, slightly iridescent."

The dramatic moment of the French group, it says here, is in Le-gros's black Milan with clover-shaped brim bound in black velvet ribbon. "Paris milliners, like Americans, think women will take to picture hats this year even before they shed their fur coats."

For travel, Maria Guy's crown hat is built on wires and springs back fast after the worst beating, according to my newspaper article.

But enough of hats.

Let me tell you a little about genes.

After 50 years of research, two University of Southern California professors finally succeeded in photographing those little things that determine your heredity and mine.

They are spindle-shaped particles about one 100,000th of a centimeter long and one 1,000,000th of a centimeter wide. A centimeter is almost a half inch.

So here we are, we mighty human beings, we masters of our destiny, simply the product of millions of almost invisible things.

And, worst of all, in the report from Southern California it didn't even say whether those genes they photographed were flower pot, coffee bean or clown hats!

Well, maybe in another 50 years they'll know that, too.

The annual meeting of the Community Chest was held last evening . . . turned to be rather lengthy but also extremely interesting . . . Every agency was represented and a report made by the representatives, which friends was really worth hearing . . . in fact it's a shame all you people who are interested in the betterment of New Castle were not there to hear those reports. They could be printed . . . but the full impact and importance and true feeling would fall short on a cold printed page . . . Mrs. Green of the Margaret Henry Home told of the troubles and toils that confront such an organization . . . How much an organization reorganizes the lives of young boys and girls and makes them fitted for life . . . yes friends the annual meeting of the Community Chest was an earful . . . next year you should make an effort to attend.

Officers for this coming year for the Community Chest . . . President, Paul G. Dingledy; Vice Pres., Ray G. Caruthers; 2nd Vice Pres., James F. Chambers; Secretary, Lauri G. Laurell; Treas., Charles H. Johnson Jr.

A special meeting of the entire board of directors of the "Chest" will be held at The Castleton on February 10th . . . Sidney Lockley, chairman of the 1948 campaign reported that to date $103,000 had been pledged to the "Chest" and that with one week it was hoped to announce more . . . the Shenango Pottery Company employees are now conducting their campaign for funds . . . It was not possible during the campaign time for them to conduct a campaign . . . The amount for the 1948 Community Chest, you remember was $109,000.

Read McCullough reported for the United Engineering last evening . . . a mighty fine record was made by the employees of that plant . . . over $3,000 has been allotted to the "Chest" this year . . . Hats off to the men and women who have made this most excellent contribution.

Without the 12 agencies the Community Chest helps support . . . this community would not be a pleasant place in which to live.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Some Strife At G.O.P. Meeting

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 27.—The members of the Republican National Committee meeting here are not quite sure, for the most part, what they are meant to do.

Their uncertainty grows out of the split personality which the party presents to the country in this sad aftermath of a defeat so total and so totally unexpected.

It is inaccurate, it seems to me, to present the split in ideological terms. This meeting, at any rate, is concerned with something far more practical. That is, we shall hold the reins of power in the coming months?

The present chairman of the committee, Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Philadelphia, was put in that office by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, after Governor Dewey's nomination. Many of the committee members had never seen him, or for that matter even heard of him before he walked into the room as the appointed designate of the Dewey managers. Mr. Scott's position was not an easy one since the day-to-day direction of the Dewey campaign was done by Herbert Brownell, Jr.

Committee of Dewey Men

Even before the members assembled here, Mr. Scott proceeded to name an executive committee of preponderantly Dewey men. This has riled many of the old-timers and it may produce more fireworks than anyone had bargained for.

One of the executive group is McIntyre Faries, member from California. Inspired stories in San Francisco newspapers declared that Faries was coming to the Omaha meeting with the express purpose of curbing the power of Sen. Robert A. Taft and other Senate leaders. When Senator Taft in Washington saw these stories he attributed the intention to California's Gov. Earl Warren, since he felt that Faries was personally friendly to him.

Senator Taft and many others in Congress, including some who disagree with the Taft point of view, argue that the national committee has no right to try to set policy. That is not, they insist, the function of the committee, which is, in essence, housekeeper and treasurer for the party.

Vandenberg Opposed

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan is another leader strongly opposed to giving power to make policy to the committee or to a Republican conference called by the committee. Senator Vandenberg believes that such conferences, with occasional rare exceptions, tend either to go off into meaningless vaporizing or to accentuate instead of reconciling party differences.

Republicans in 1950 must run on the record of Congress. That is the argument of these responsible leaders and it seems to make sense.

When Senator Taft went to visit Governor Dewey shortly after the Philadelphia convention of last June, the nominee told him he was going to conduct a campaign of sweetness and light. He used just those words, adding that he had always won on sweetness and light and had lost when he got into controversy.

Never conspicuous as an apostle of sweetness and light, Senator Taft did not argue. But he felt strongly that it would be impossible to ignore the record of the 80th Congress as Governor Dewey intended to do. In some way or other it had to be faced up to. What happened on November 2 seems to have proved this correct.

They Say

NEW YORK—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., leader of the GOP liberal bloc: "The Republican party can regain control of U. S. if it does some soul-searching and cleans house."

LONDON—Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary: "Our one subject is to give happiness and contentment, and a decent standard of life to the masses of Europe."

WASHINGTON—D. Worth Clark, former U. S. senator from Idaho: "In my opinion, China will reel with the punch and come back to knock communism out of her boundaries."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Claude Pepper (D. Fla.): "Republicans are trying to save their face, the Taft-Hartley law which is their political faith. But we are going to consider labor legislation just as if the Taft-Hartley law didn't exist."

U.S. Husband Still A Wolf

By PAUL GALLICO

Leave us all snap to attention and salute a British author, Mr. Beverly Nichols, the first European to write about the American husband and lover in terms that are not disparaging.

Brother Nichols has perpetrated an article in a British magazine, "Woman's Own", in which he reports that the American husband is still a wolf. Thanks, Bev.

In his report to the ladies of Great Britain he writes (after a spell of research and exploration in this country): "... If you marry an American you marry a foreigner, just as much as if you were marrying a Spaniard or a Greek."

"British girls who lived in cities that were filled with American troops during the war will probably agree that the American male is not notoriously undersexed."

"In the war days this didn't seem to matter so much. There was a certain charm in so much virility, in the wolf with his easy grin. But the charm is apt to wear thin when having crossed the water, you discover the wolf is still a wolf."

One Of Nicest Things

Now this is quite one of the nicest things ever written about us Americans from the other side of the Atlantic. For years we have been taking literary beatings from writers, critics and experts who have been telling us that we do not know how to make "lahv", "lov", or "luff", depending upon what country they hail from.

Any dame from anywhere in Europe can get herself a column of space by crossing her legs for the ship news photographers and giving out an interview abusing the American male as a lover, husband and sweetheart. For years we have suffered from a national inferiority complex through falling for that imported swindle that only a guy with sideburns, garlic breath and an accent knows how to stir up a lassie to the boiling point.

Well, everybody likes a piece of Camembert cheese or a hunk of imported salami for a change now and then, but you wouldn't think of having it for a steady diet. If you will look through the records you will find that American ladies who got themselves European husbands were disappointed and almost invariably wound up shedding them.

No Complaints Seen

Let us face the further fact that your American soldado raised unhurt Gehenna with British lassies, French Mamselles, German Frauleins and Italian Signorinas, and to date I have seen no signs of round robins of complaint. The gay, grinning Lupus Americanus has left his mark all over Europe not to mention a considerable host of living reminders of his—ah—personality.

Techniques vary in different lands. A Frenchman finds it effective to go nibbling up a lady's arm at the fingertips and stopping off for lunch at the shoulder. Our guys got equal results with a smile. A lot of French girls, a little tired of having their arms treated like an ear of corn, are reported to have found the change refreshing.

Slightly Pickish

There is only one angle to Mr. Nichols' article I find slightly pickish, and that is the fact that many British G. I. wives are unhappy because their American husbands are still wolves, and he writes, "American husbands give a somewhat loose interpretation to the word fidelity."

Well, I wish he had said just "husbands" instead of "American husbands." I protest that the roving eye is not a national trait. I have lived amongst the English, and I yield to no man in my admiration for the British character, but fidelity to the missus is not one of the virtues for which our Limey brother is outstanding. He is always popping over to Paris, or running down to Brighton for no good purpose.

But what am I saying? Am I going to be critical of Mr. Nichols? Not on your life. Bless him, he called us wabblers. He's our boy, ain't he? (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

State Police Say:

Everybody's talking about the increased cost of living, but here's something else to think about. Traffic deaths are also on the increase in Troop D area. The real tragedy in these cases is that they need never have happened at all. Every driver and pedestrian has a vital personal responsibility to insure his own safety, and the police need everyone's cooperation if a ceiling is to be clamped on the increased cost of traffic accidents in Pennsylvania.

JOBS UPON A TIME

GEORGE BURNS, husband of Gracie Allen, and her partner in their radio program, was born in New York City, and was a singer in a children's quartet in vaudeville. Later George was a professional roller skater. In 1922, George formed a team with Gracie, marrying her in 1925. They teamed in vaudeville for many years, then appeared on the screen first in short subjects and on radio in England. George began his long radio career in the United States in 1930.

GRACIE ALLEN was born in San Francisco, and in her early youth attended a secretarial school in Union Hill, N. J., where she joined George Burns in vaudeville as a comedy team in 1922. Gracie, however, made her American radio debut alone in an Eddie Cantor performance in 1930. Gracie made her screen appearance in 1932, first in short subjects, then in feature pictures. George did not appear with Gracie in Gracie Allen Murder Case or Mr. and Mrs. North.

Liberals Are Grooming Lodge

May Be Republican Party Candidate For President In 1952 Is Report

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The so-called "liberal" Republican leaders already are grooming Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts as their presidential candidate for 1952.

First step was the recently defeated move of the "Young Turks" to oust Senator Robert A. Taft, and replace him with Lodge. Ohio, as GOP Senate policy maker, By 1952 the GOP "progressives" feel that the Republicans will be ready to nominate one of the "liberals" for the presidency. They say that if this is done, the Republicans can win the White House victory they expected last November.

Lodge will be 50 years old in 1952—four years older than Thomas E. Dewey when the New Yorker made the race last year. The Massachusetts "blue blood" broke his Senate career to become a combat officer in World War II. At the Republican national convention last June, he was chairman of the platform committee. One of Lodge's staunchest supporters is reported to be Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee in the 80th Congress.

ANTI-MONOPOLY CRUSADE

Look for a new administration attempt to stem the growth of big business during the coming session of Congress.

Tip-off to White House concern over the growth of corporations and the swallowing up of their small competitors was the third annual report of the important Presidential Council of Economic Advisers.

In language which stood out strongly in the midst of the reserved statements in the rest of the report, the council, headed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, declared:

"Year by year, the control of the market is passing more largely into the hands of the large corporations, not only by internal growth but by absorption of smaller firms. The process of expansion of large corporations by swallowing the smaller continues and the concentration of economic power becomes more intense."

The advisers gave strong support to suspicions that legislation would be sought in saving "Competition offered by the myriad of small business units must not be lost, but instead must be strengthened and expanded."

They expressed concern over what they called the "administered price policy" by which monopolies or near monopolies can maintain high prices by controlling the amount of production.

In a recession or depression, they said, such a policy "may endanger the public welfare."

KREMLIN STORY

Informed opinion in Washington is that President Truman had no definite overtures from any Russian leaders to support his recent statement that some Soviet leaders were "exceedingly anxious" to come to an agreement with the United States.

There is also little evidence that the president was trying to "needle" the Politburo, as some administration sources have suggested. The probability is that Mr. Truman was stating a personal impression based on observation of certain Russian actions.

If the chief executive had received any concrete proposals from Kremlin leaders, it is unlikely that Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador to Russia, would have scoffed at the idea of a "cleavage" in the Politburo.

Smith, after a recent conference with the president, told White House newsmen that any such no-added that it was "beyond the tion was pure 'speculation.' He scope of my imagination" for such a thing to happen.

Some recent actions of the Russian government have appeared contradictory, and have indicated that Generalissimo Josef Stalin may desire peace. This may have been the basis for the president's statement.

However, there seems little to support the idea, sometimes advanced in State department quarters, that Stalin is at odds with more war-minded Soviet officials.

The name of the village of Bethany, Palestine, mentioned in the New Testament, and from which place Jesus began His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, means "House of Dates." Nearby Bethghe means "house of figs."

Milk Commission Is Restrained By Order Of Court

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The State Milk Control Commission today was restrained by a court order from subpoenaing books and records of Pittsburgh area milk dealers.

The order, with a rule to show cause, was issued yesterday by the Dauphin county court upon petition of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers for a preliminary injunction against the MCC.

The commission subpoenaed the books and records of the milk dealers January 17 at the request of Pittsburgh City Solicitor Anne X. Alpern prior to a hearing of milk prices for the area January 20 in Pittsburgh.

Willis F. Daniels, association counsel, pointed out in a statement that the injunction was sought to determine the basic issues involved in the MCC's subpoena of dealers' "private books and records."

"All pertinent and relevant records have been and are now available to the Milk Control Commission for inspection and examination," Daniels stated.

Jesus Was Tempted, Just As We Are

SATAN OFFERED HIM THE WORLD TO RULE

Scripture—Luke 4: 1-13

Christ tempted by Satan.

"Jesus ... hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin."—Hebrews 4:14-15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
Temptation comes to all human beings. They are tempted to lie, to take what is not theirs, to strike their enemies when angered, even to kill.

There are many small temptations, such as selfishness, ill-temper, lack of consideration for others, and modern life presents many chances to become prey to these faults.

We think of Jesus as the one perfect being in the world—without fault—and it is comforting to think that He, too, was tempted. We gain strength to meet our own temptations when we read how He resisted the evil one and remained without fault.

Jesus has been baptized by John the Baptist, and leaving the Jordan river where the baptism took place, He—led by the Holy Spirit—went to the wilderness alone. He had not yet begun his ministry, and this period of 40 days in solitude was perhaps His preparation for it. However, He was not left alone. Satan—arch-enemy of the good—came to Him, bent on mischief. After days of fasting in the wilderness, the Lord was hungry—even as you and I would have been. That was natural even for Jesus in His human form. Satan pointed to the stone at their feet, and said to Him, "If Thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread."

However, Jesus, quoting the Scripture, answered, "It is written, that man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God." Could you have withstood that temptation, after fasting for days, and having the power to do as Satan suggested?

The next temptation was on what we might call "a large scale." Taking Jesus up into a high mountain, Satan showed Him "all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time."

"And the devil said unto Him,

All this power will I give Thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will give it. If Thou therefore wilt worship me, and shall be Thine."

Jesus, answer was: "Get thee behind Me, Satan; for it is written (again quoting Scripture) Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and Him only shalt thou serve."

Thwarted the second time, the devil then took Jesus to the very top or pinnacle of the temple, and suggested that He throw Himself down. God Himself had given His angels charge over Jesus, said Satan craftily, and they would bear Him up in their hands so no harm would come to Him.

"It is said," Jesus answered, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God."

"And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from Him for a season. And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and there went out a fame of Him through all the region round about."

Even to ordinary mortals there comes a glow of happiness and confidence when temptation is resisted. Some tiny part of the Spirit that was with Jesus is with us, too, especially if the temptation that we have overcome is great.

Whether our temptations are large or small, however, it is a comfort to know and to remind ourselves that Jesus—the perfect Man—could be tempted just as you and I, and that He will give us strength to overcome our faults if we pray to Him and listen to that small inner voice that tells us when things are wrong.

SEATING GUESTS AT WEDDING BREAKFAST

"At a sit-down wedding breakfast, at which all guests will be at one large table, how should they be seated? There will be a maid-of-honor, best man, three bridesmaids, three ushers and a few guests, in addition to my parents and the groom's at an enormous rectangular table."

Answer: At the head of the table should be the bride with the groom at her left (seated side by side). To the groom's left should be the maid-of-honor, to the bride's right, the best man. To the right of the best man, should be a bridesmaid, beside whom should be an usher and then another bridesmaid. On the other side, to the left of the maid-of-honor should be an usher, next to whom a bridesmaid should be seated and then an usher. At the other end, opposite the bride and groom, should be the groom's mother with the bride's father to her left. To the right of the groom's mother should be the clergyman, next to whom comes the bride's mother and on the other side of her the groom's father. To the left of the bride's father should be the wife of the clergyman. If the clergyman and his wife are not invited to the wedding, choose elderly relatives to sit in the places I have appointed for them in this list. Other relatives and friends should be seated toward the center of the table with no two men nor two women seated together, if possible. Usually, but not necessarily, there is a separate bride's table, where the entire bridal party is seated and another table for the families and friends.

Question: Several of my friends recently gave me a bridal shower. Do I owe them any return hospitality, I am not to be married for about a year.

Answer: You really should reciprocate with some sort of entertainment. If there were not a prohibitive number in the group, you might entertain them all at one time, by giving a luncheon, tea, bridge, dinner or evening party at your home.

Guide Landing Of Commercial Plane

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Officials at the nearby "Glenview Naval Air Station" hailed today the first ground controlled approach landing of a commercial plane in the Chicago area.

The American Airlines flagship, with 33 passengers and 4 crewmen, was "talked down" yesterday at the Glenview Field after the Chicago Municipal Airport became fog-bound.

The position of the big four engine aircraft was located by radar, after which the control tower observers guided the plane to the ground with a continuous stream of spoken radio instructions.

Briggs Company To Occupy Plant At Youngstown

Another Large Manufacturing Concern Locates Plant In This Section

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Another large manufacturer was planning today to open a new plant in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown steel manufacturing district.

Briggs Manufacturing Co., the world's largest "independent" maker of automobile bodies, has purchased the Upper Union mills at Youngstown, O., from the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co.

The plant will stamp auto bodies and use steel coming from the Youngstown and Monongahela river valleys steel mills.

The new plant is expected to open April 1 and will employ about 1,000 persons. It represents an investment of "several million dollars".

Briggs is the third large automobile concern to buy a plant in the district since the new steel pricing plan went into effect. The move is expected to save the firm approximately $13,000 a month on its freight bill alone.

U. S. Marines To Stay In China

SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Reuters reported from Shanghai today that the U. S. will keep an "adequate force" of marines in China to deal with uncontrolled violence which may involve Americans in any part of the strife-torn country.

Reuters said that this declaration of policy was made by Vice-Admiral Badger, commander of the marines in China. It quoted the navy officer as saying that marine units in the port of Tsingtao are being reduced in view of "changed conditions".

PLAN BIG IMPROVEMENTS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The Dauphin County commissioners today mulled over preliminary figures of $2,500,000 for a proposed county building program. A firm of architects estimated expansion of the county hospital would cost $1,000,000. The development program includes building a new county jail and improving the detention home.

Largest Field Training Plan For National Guard

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The National Guard's top general asserted today that more than 300,000 guardsmen, now planning for the largest field training in history, are prepared to take up arms instantly in defense of the United States.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer, chief of the National Guard bureau, declared that the guard's currently organized 27 divisions and 21 regimental combat teams are ready for immediate defensive action in case of any emergency.

He said: "If they weren't ready, they wouldn't be organized. That's what I mean by organization."

Cramer added, however, that the combat efficiency of the guard units would vary with the experience and quantity of personnel, as well as with the units' degree of training. All organized units have from 50 to 100 per cent of their authorized personnel.

Improvement in combat efficiency is the chief object of the immediate training program set up for this summer. Between June 4 and Sept. 24, approximately 321,000 guardsmen will go to summer camp in two-week periods.

Leading British Laborite Resigns His $20,000 Post

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—A leading British laborite, George Gibson, resigned his $20,000 a year post as chairman of the North West Electricity Board after a special tribunal implicated him in a network of corruption involving Anglo-American trade.

The tribunal had reported to parliament that Gibson accepted gifts knowing that they were meant to procure official favors.

Gibson, a former chairman of Britain's powerful trades union congress, had resigned his post as a director of the Bank of England during the investigation.

London newspapers demanded that he and John W. Belcher, another leading laborite, resign all official posts after the tribunal made its report. Belcher was found to have taken bribes. He has resigned his post as undersecretary of the board of trade, but still retains his membership in parliament.

CARNEGIE HERO AWARDS MADE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—(INS) The Carnegie Hero Fund commission today recognized 13 heroes in nine states and one in Nova Scotia.

The heroes range in age from 16 to 70, and three of them gave their lives while two were injured in rescue attempts.

Their acts of bravery included burning rescues from drowning and several, pulling an infant from in front of an automobile, and snatching a three-year-old girl from the path of a moving railroad engine.

The families of two of those who died have been awarded pensions totaling $1,440 annually, and the injured will receive disability payments amounting to $400. All received bronze medals.

Payments of awards will not be made, however, until the commission has fully approved plans for use of the funds by the recipients.

Tyrone Power And Linda Christian Married In Rome

ROME, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Film stars Tyrone Power and Linda Christian were married in the ancient Rome church of Santa Francesca Romana today while mounted Italian police beat back mobs of eager movie fans.

American and European diplomats, members of the Italian aristocracy, and celebrities and friends of the Hollywood stars jammed the ancient church, unaware of the tumult outside.

A high church dignitary, Monsignor William Hennrich of Washington, D. C., canon of St. Peter's and Ecclesiastical attaché of the Holy See legation of the order of the Knights of Malta, performed the nuptial rites.

In Hollywood, doubt was expressed that the marriage will be recognized as legal in the U.S. since it took place before final papers in Power's divorce from Annabella were scheduled to be signed later today.

(Asked about this, Power declared: "If not, then we'll have another wedding.")

Battle Lines Form For State Battle On Horse-Racing

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)

—Battle lines were forming today on legislation to legalize horse-racing and use the tax yield from pari-mutuel betting to pay off the $500,000,000 bonus for World War II veterans.

Philadelphia Republicans Reps. Frank A. Costa, Cornelius J. Loftus and John R. McCormick, sponsored the bill. Horse race legislation was defeated in the House during the 1947 session.

Religious, civic and church groups traditionally offer bitter opposition to horse-racing legislation. The so-called "big city" and racing interests customarily offer strong support, but not in sufficient numbers.

U. S. War Prisoners In Germany Once Threatened Sally

Witness In Treason Case Tells Of Incident Told Her By Axis Sally

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The "Axis Sally" treason trial jury was told Wednesday that U. S. war prisoners in Germany once "threatened" the American-born woman when she urged them to record material for her Nazi propaganda broadcasts.

Inga Sylvia Doman, 32, ex-Nazi radio announcer, testified that "Sally"—Mildred E. Gillars—told her about the threats in March, 1944.

Miss Doman was the second witness to swear that she saw and heard Miss Gillars make wartime broadcasts aimed at crushing American morale on the fighting front and at home.

Earlier, Hans von Richter, 38, ex-German consular aide at Cleveland, Ohio, and a wartime Nazi radio official, testified that he saw "Sally" in the act of broadcasting for Hitler.

Under the constitution, there must be two witnesses to an act of treason in order to support the charge.

Miss Doman, softly speaking excellent English, said she met Miss Gillars on a train platform in Germany in March, 1944, and asked her about visits to prisoner of war camps to obtain program material.

Recreation Camp For Under-Privileged Children To Be Established

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Swift action on measures to benefit Pennsylvania's underprivileged children and World War II veterans will highlight activity of the General Assembly today.

The Senate will set up for final passage next week a measure establishing a summer recreation camp on the Indiantown Gap military reservation for underprivileged children. The enabling legislation, which must also pass the House, was recommended by Gov. James H. Duff.

Bonus Provision

At the same time, the House of Representatives is slated to take speedy action in approving a measure to provide $500,000,000 bonus for World War II veterans.

Both proposals have the wholehearted support of Democrats and Republicans alike.

The bonus measure, received by the House yesterday, is scheduled to reach the governor's desk Monday. Veterans' leaders may arrange a ceremony to mark final legislative approval. The bonus must be approved by the electorate inasmuch as it is in the form of an amendment to the state's constitution calling for an increase in the commonwealth debt. The question probably will appear on the November ballot.

READ LABELS ON LINENS

Every homemaker takes pride in a well stocked linen closet—sheets, pillow cases, towels, table linens. During the January white sales many homemakers are likely to replace the worn and discarded pieces.

Before the homemaker makes a purchase she should have certain information so that she may make certain decisions, and be a wise and satisfied buyer. The kind of article bought ought to have been guided by amount of money to spend and kind of usage it will get.

Some manufacturers put informative labels on their goods as an aid to consumers. Such labels on sheets should give thread count; breaking strength of both warp and filling threads; weight and amount of sizing. It is a first or a second often marked irregular.

Percalate sheets, which are of the upper price scale, are often considered luxurious. When quality, texture and appearance are factors most desired, percalate sheets are not too luxurious. They are light in weight and have good wearing quality due to the closeness of the weave and the long finely combed yarns used.

For the average homemaker, heavy muslin is the old standby. If of the best quality yarns, it will give the most service at the minimum cost. Many manufacturers label sheets as to type such as 128, 140 and so on. Below 128, the material is loosely woven and sizing is used to give an appearance of a better quality. After one or two launderings the sheet becomes thin and sleazy. A good way to determine sizing is to hold to the light to see closeness of threads and to rub the fabric between the hands to see if there is an excessive amount of dust falling. Hems and selvedge edges should be examined for firmness and good construction.

Towels require good absorbing qualities. Linen huck and turkish towels hold first place. Turkish towels should have a close weave and loops, firm selvedge edges and good hems. Plain weave in hems or contrasting materials often shrinks more than the rest of the towel therefore the wise buyer will consider these factors.

PLAN GARDEN FOR REAL SATISFACTION

Planning a garden? Well, it is possible to derive a lot of solid satisfaction from the crops produced if they are based upon family likes in fresh, home-grown vegetables.

Plan to include, of course, salads and greens, such as lettuce, onions, cabbage, celery, endive and broccoli. Also, the seed crops including tomatoes, peppers, beans, peas and cucumbers, and the root crops among them beets, radishes, carrots, turnips and parsnips.

Not all of these are planted at the same time. Some are late vegetables and can be put in for succession cropping where early crops, such as lettuce, peas and radishes, have been harvested. By catering to family preferences gardeners can avoid wasting garden space, time, effort and seeds, sometimes devoted by inexperienced growers to unpopular—and uneaten crops.

START GOOD CHICKS FOR STRONG FLOCK

Since strong, vigorous, well-hatched chicks are the ones most likely to grow into fine layers or profitable meat stock, poultry specialists emphasize the importance of doing a good job in breeding, incubation, feeding and management.

Knowing something of their background is important for the poultryman who buys his chicks. They should be from flocks free from pollorum disease, or where a reliable job of testing shows low reaction.

Advance information on the breeding flock can indicate the number and size of eggs the pullets will be capable of producing, rapidity of feathering, lack of broodiness and size of body at maturity.

The reputation of a breed variety or strain of chickens depends greatly on the man who produces them; hence, it is a good plan to stick to a proven source of chicks.

Results in the laying pen test the quality of chicks and the job of brooding. Initial cost of the chick is such a small part of the brooding cost, or the cost of producing eggs and meat, that price alone should not be a determining factor in purchasing chicks.

Report Is Made By Health Bureau

One hundred and fifty five licenses have been issued by the city health bureau to drinking and eating places here. There were 174 in 1948.

The decrease was caused by change in ownership, closing of business and other factors, city officials report.

The city chemist, J. K. Heess, conducted 60 inspections of the places last year, his report to Sanitary Director R. I. Davis states.

In addition to sampling milk from 23 dairies he analyzed water taken from privately-owned wells, springs and the local water company.

More than 3,000 bacteriologist tests were made last year, Heess reported.

Truman Sets Up Cabinet Aides For New Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—President Truman announced today he has set up a cabinet committee to aid in launching his "bold new program" for world "peace, plenty and freedom".

The chief executive told a news conference that he has had under consideration for more than two years the "global fair deal" plan enunciated in his inaugural address.

The president declared the idea originated with his "Truman doctrine", laid down two years ago to bolster Greece and Turkey against the menace of aggressive Communism.

Mr. Truman said that throughout the next four years his administration will seek to implement the world abundance program.

Mr. Truman added I spend a good deal of my time looking over that globe in the back of the room there, trying to figure out a way to bring about world peace.

The president said that he has asked Secretary of State Dean Acheson and heads of several other government departments to act as a committee to undertake an extensive study of his proposal. This includes the lending this country's technical knowledge to other freedom-loving countries to develop their resources and banish hunger and misery from those areas.

He was born in New Castle May 22, 1921, son of Walter and Clara Stokes Smith, former residents of this city, and now of Cleveland, O. Capt. Smith attended schools here prior to moving to Cleveland.

Damage Award May Establish New Law Basis

Family And Estate Of Fireman Given Big Award In Fireman's Death In Fire

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The family and the estate of a Pittsburgh fireman today were awarded damages totaling $50,000 in a decision that may eventually establish a new law regarding the responsibilities of building owners toward firemen.

The sealed verdict, opened this morning in the court of Judge Samuel A. Weiss, awarded $36,480 to Mrs. Margaret Rubaker, 35, and her three sons, and $12,912 to the estate of her late husband.

Herman Rubaker, a Pittsburgh fireman, was killed in an explosion and fire at the Eagle Paint and Varnish Works of the Watson-Standard Co., in Pittsburgh, on June 11, 1942.

The plaintiff contended the firm was negligent in the handling of combustible chemicals and in failing to warn firemen of their presence.

If the case is appealed and the verdict sustained, court observers believe it will establish virtually a new law regarding the responsibility of building owners toward firemen.

They pointed out that firemen have been "on their own" heretofore in fighting fires in burning buildings.

Attorney Jason Richardson, representing the widow, declared that city ordinances are for the protection of police and firemen as well as the public.

Although the suit was filed against both the Eagle Paint and Varnish Works and the Watson-Standard Co., the verdict was directed against the latter firm.

Mayor Pays Tribute To Late City Detective

"Detective Thomas Lynch was loyal, and was one of the most efficient men I could have had on the city police force," said Mayor John F. Haven today in expressing sorrow at the passing of the city detective Wednesday evening in the New Castle hospital.

"He was a real fellow. He has been ill for a long time, and tried to pull himself together by working when he wasn't able. He had an uphill fight which was too serious for him to overcome."

"I'm sorry to hear of his death."

Detective Lynch served about 35 years on the police force. He started as a patrolman, did detective's duty and served as a detective. His record for police work was excellent, and as an officer, he participated in many of the department's most important cases,

Czech Farming Areas Resisting Government Plan

PRAGUE, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Reports from Czech farming areas said today that the government's new program to eliminate "capitalist elements" in agriculture is meeting stiff resistance.

The program is designed to eliminate the small number of farmers who still own more than 30 acres of land, and to organize small landholders into large cooperative and collective agricultural units.

Observers noted that it was the Cominform's insistence on speedy collectivization of agriculture which led Marshal Tito to take Yugoslavia out of the Soviet bloc, and that the same program has spelt Communism in Poland.

Some fear is expressed in Czech government circles that if strict enforcement of the program is ordered, the farmers will sabotage food production.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Gen. Julius Ochs Adler and Bob Considine stole the show at the annual banquet of the Overseas Press club, but John McCloy, president of the World Bank, won the biggest single laugh with a Winston Churchill story. During the war, it appears, the Foreign Office insisted upon its prerogative of reading Churchill's radio speeches before delivery.

In one of them, an undersecretary presumed to question the Prime Minister's ending a sentence with a preposition. Mr. Churchill summoned the offender and exploded, "This is the kind of arrogant pedantry up with which I will not put."

When Considine was covering the atom bomb experiment at Bikini, he was one of a score of correspondents who loaned money to a cadging confrere. All efforts to collect proved fruitless until he dispatched this note: "If I don't get a check in the morning, I'm really going to fix you. I'm going to tell all your other creditors you paid me in full." It worked instantly.

Rice is the basic diet of millions of the world's population. It is an annual grass, most of it growing with its roots standing in water, but some species growing successfully on ordinary land. All parts of the rice plants are useful, the husks being used as fuel.

Ellender Predicts Compromise On Housing Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) predicted that his million-unit public housing bill will be cut down to a size that Senate GOP policy chairman Taft (R-Ohio) will accept.

Ellender turned the other cheek in reply to Taft's charge in a New York speech that the new administration bill is pointed toward socialism. He forecast a compromise that both he and Taft can support.

Taft, who had joined with Ellender in the Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill in the 80th Congress, refused to back the new version of the bill when its goal was boosted from a half-million units over five years to a million over seven years.

Taft and other Republicans are preparing a bill which was said to be along the lines of the public housing program in the Taft-Ellender-Wagner measure which passed the Senate but died in the house.

Ellender predicted: "I think the outcome will be a bill which we will join in supporting on the senate floor. I look for a committee compromise."

MASS COLLISION

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Seven vehicles, including two Seranton Transit Co. buses, were damaged Wednesday in a mass collision on an ice-covered bridge.

A number of passengers on the buses were shaken up, but otherwise there were no injuries. Traffic was blocked for a half hour.

State police warned that driving conditions in the Pocono mountains and between Seranton and Binghamton, N. Y., are "extremely dangerous."

Acheson Reveals Plans To Implement Truman's Program Are Under Way

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson said Wednesday that plans to implement President Truman's global "fair deal" program already are under way.

Acheson, in his first news conference as secretary of state, declared that the program enunciated by Mr. Truman in his inaugural address calls not for large-scale investment of U. S. dollars but for long-range execution of a policy of abundance among anti-Communist nations.

The cabinet officer added that Mr. Truman already has instructed the State department to consult with other interested government agencies on plans to launch the program.

Acheson said the chief aim of the long-range program is to use material things for "non-material purpose." He added parenthetically that it isn't intended to install modern plumbing all over the world.

"Rather, the secretary said, the plan is to help 'like-minded'—that is, democratic—peoples find the abundance which can be obtained and to deliver them from the fears that result from the 'curse' of having to wrest a living from the soil.

Summarizes Purposes
Acheson meticulously summarized the purposes of the proposal set forth in the President's inaugural address, which in some quarters has been criticized as calling for vast American expenditures.

The secretary said the object is to make clear to the United States and to countries throughout the world the American way of life and the purposes of the American system.

He epitomized the plan thus: "To enable the individual to achieve an abundance of life."

Acheson said the President pointed out that there are other attitudes toward the individual in society which are not new but "reactionary in the extreme."

Acheson said: "This attitude goes back to the pre-Renaissance period. It is reactionary in the extreme. It is an attempt to go back into the cocoon of history."

Amplifying Program
Amplifying the program, he said that the purpose is to give freedom to peoples throughout the world from those who would dominate them and to free man "from the curse of winning his living from the soil."

Asked what he believed were the undeveloped areas to which Mr. Truman referred, Acheson said it seemed obvious to him that they included the Far East, Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America.

He said the United States has "no monopoly on skills." The secretary explained there are skills in other countries which can be expanded by help from outside and all countries could cooperate either individually or through the already existing United Nations organization.

Acheson said that there are "dreams" in many countries for developing themselves. He added that engineers and other technicians could survey these and find out whether they are practical.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 27.—Republic studios and the Johnston office currently are engaging in one heckuva tussle over the use of the word "hell" in the title of a new picture.

Movie producers, it seems, live by some self-imposed ruling which prevents them from tagging a flicker with "hell." But Republic has wound-up shooting schedules of a film that practically hollers for "hell" in its title. And the studio wants something done about it.

Self-Censorship
Flickerville launched its own self-censorship some 15 years ago under the eagle-optic of Will Hays, after the movie-going public rose up in righteous indignation over certain Hollywood habits.

One of the rules set down in the "moral code of conduct" was: "Titles which are salacious, indecent, obscene, profane or vulgar cannot be used."

Prior to that precedent provoking ruling, producers were free as the breeze to tag their brainchildren with any combinations of words they thought were sure to lure cash customers into the theaters.

"Hell" was a pet word . . . No picture ever using it in a title lost dough. Remember "Hell Diver," "Hell's Angels," "From Hell to Heaven," "Hell on Earth," and many others?

But "Hell" has been taboo in titles since 1934. Until the other thing obscene or vulgar about "hellfire."

Johnston office big wheels are tuning in a sympathetic ear but still haven't decided. Maybe, though, you'll soon be ganderizing a Hollywood movie for the first time in 15 years with "hell" in the title.

Trend Changes

A couple of semesters ago if any film writer had stuck a foreign word in a script he would have run the risk of being canned.

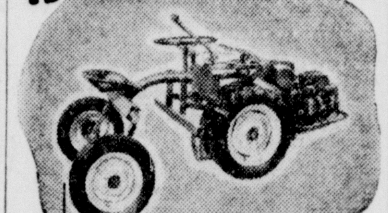

Even a "Oui, Oui" or a "Si, Senor" was as uncalled for as telling the big boss to go chase himself around the studio administration building.

Today foreign languages are being rattled off on half the sound stage of the ham hamlet.

The trend toward using chunks of alien tongues in pictures started with "The Razor's Edge." Darryl F. Zanuck, bossman of 20th Century-Fox, insisted that the players make with the French lingo whenever possible.

Bevin Appeals For World Aid For Arab Hosts

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons Wednesday that "Israel is now a fact" and asserted that Britain and the U. S. are working in "close cooperation" on the Middle East.

Bevin opened parliamentary debate on the explosive Middle East issue with a strong defense of the labor party's policies, declaring that the Palestine problem was not his government's "creation."

Asks Help For Arabs
He appealed for world financial help for half a million Arab refugees who "did not walk out voluntarily from Palestine."

Bevin declared: "I think that the driving out of poor innocent people and making ordinary people suffer to be driven from their homes, is a crime, whoever does it."

Bevin said that Britain has steadily supported all United Nations Security Council resolutions affecting both sides in Palestine and added:

"From that policy his majesty's government is not going to be deterred an inch."

Reviewing British Middle East policy from 1919 to 1945, Bevin said there was constant conflict and never unanimity. He added:

"It was like trying to ride two very difficult horses at the time. We were balancing ourselves only with very great difficulty."

"I have always been willing to consider any constructive proposals but I have been confronted by attacks, untruths, half-truths and abuse reflecting not only on me personally but on the British people."

U. S.-Britain See "Eye To Eye"
The foreign secretary said that Britain and the United States for a long time have seen "eye to eye" on a basic Middle East policy. Although they sometimes have differed regarding the means of approach.

Bevin warned of the danger that the Middle East might become another Balkan area torn with internal dissensions and international rivalries. He said:

"We are determined to do all in our power to prevent this in close cooperation with the U. S."

The foreign secretary said that Britain has not taken any measures to "undo" the situation in Palestine. But in appealing for financial aid for the displaced Arabs he said:

"The Arabs have a cause that has got to be considered. It cannot just be dismissed."

Bevin recalled the long friendship of the Arab nations for Britain and their help in the last war. He said he was not going to forget friends and "certainly will make a start" in their behalf.

The secretary denied that Britain had attempted to prove that partition of Palestine is impossible or had obstructed the Palestine commission. He added:

"It is equally untrue that his majesty's government encouraged Arab governments or forces to attack Israel."

"I uttered every warning I could to the Arab governments not to indulge in this business."

Fair Practices Fate Uncertain

Legislative Action On Commission Proposal Of Governor Is Awaited

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

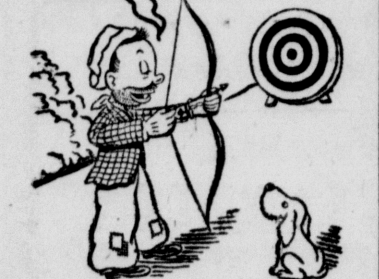

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The fate of the Fair Employment Practices Commission proposed by Governor Duff cannot be ascertained. . . Rep. Adam Bower (R) Northumberland was chairman of the House Labor Committee which bottled up FEPC bills during the last session despite pressure from Duff and pressure groups. . . Bower, renamed chairman for the 1949 session has indicated his stand on FEPC legislation has not altered in two years. . . Thus if the proposal ends up in Bower's committee it undoubtedly will stay there without ever seeing the light of day on the floor of the House. . . An alternative would be to send the proposal to another committee, although precedence does dictate committees which should receive legislation for initial consideration. . . The bill may be shuttled into the House Welfare Committee headed by John R. Haudenschild (R) Allegheny, a faithful follower of the governor.

The 10th anniversary of the Pennsylvania Roadside Council will be celebrated January 26. . . The organization has raised $25,000 among contributors to underwrite the cost of planting dogwood trees.

The second progress report of the joint ventures under contract with the commonwealth to desilt the Schuylkill river contains several interesting items. . . It reveals that the ventures have allocated $548,170 for management and supervision of construction for work contracted beyond June 1, 1949. . . Between June, 1947 and the end of the 1947-49 biennium May 31, 1949, the ventures earmarked $154,450 for similar fees. . . Estimated costs of the entire project on the Schuylkill river above Norristown was estimated at $34,944,440. . . During the 1947-49 biennium the ventures spent or contracted for $12,907,419 while the original state appropriation will be sought from the assembly to carry out the state's part of the program. . . The federal government, through the Army Engineers Corps, is desilting the river below Norristown.

Members of the most exclusive club in Pennsylvania, the state Senate, are miffed at the shoddy appearance of the metal badges which have been provided for their identification by the Department of Property and Supplies. . . A Philadelphia firm filled the order for many years until the department transferred the contract to another firm on the ground that it had submitted the lowest bid. . . Several senators and many senators believe the department overstepped its authority in handling the contract because the money to be spent by the assembly is not subject to the same restrictions as are imposed on departments of state government. . . Several senators started a move shortly after the gold badges were received to send them back to the department with orders to substitute replacements. . . The exclusive club tag has been pinned on the senate because only 50 of the state's citizens make up the membership.

Widow Kills Two Daughters, Self With Gas Fumes

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Police Chief Joseph Stonicker, of nearby Lawrenceville, expressed belief today that a grief-stricken widow of ten days, killed herself and her two daughters by gas.

The victims were Mrs. Mary S. McLaughlin, 43; Karen, 7, and Lauren, 3. They were found yesterday on the second floor of their fashionable home after a visiting friend, failing to gain entrance, called police.

Stonicker said all jets of the kitchen range were open when the tragedy was discovered. He explained the gas rose to the second floor through a conduit normally used to permit upward passage of heat.

Neighbors said Mrs. McLaughlin had felt keenly the death of her husband, Joseph L. McLaughlin, 49, last Jan. 16. He was a former supervisor of collections of motor fuel taxes for the state of New Jersey.

Steel Industry Seen On Way To Normal Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The steel industry is on its way to a normal market.

The magazine iron age which made this observation today, asserted that scrap is more plentiful, pig iron output is higher, and the unusual pressure from customers is on the wane.

It appeared as if steel consumers, while seeking more steel on one hand, are taking a close check on their supplies with the other. The national metalworking weekly stated that consumers were anxious to avoid heavy inventories if later in the year a "belt tightening" phase set in.

Iron Age reported a downward movement of scrap prices. It said scrap users agreed that grades are coming into better balance price wise.

It reported that the pre-war differential has been established in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Philadelphia.

League Of Women Voters Has Meeting

Luncheon Program Precedes Meeting At YWCA On Wednesday Afternoon

League of Women Voters of Lawrence county met for luncheon at 12 noon Wednesday in a downtown dining room preceding its regular January meeting. Miss Margaret Brown, president of the league, was the guest of honor.

Covers were laid for 19 at a table centered with a crystal bowl of snapdragons, sweet peas and daffodils. Invocation was asked by Mrs. Raymond Williams. Later the group went to the parlor of the Y.W.C.A. where they heard Miss Elsie Calvin, of the National Council of Social Studies of the National Education Association, who was a special guest, tell of some of her experiences in Washington, D. C. where she has attended numerous legislative sessions and senate and congressional committee hearings. Miss Calvin also talked on the topic of federal aid to education and answered a number of questions. She strongly urged members to peruse the Congressional Record for national legislative details.

Mrs. Lyle Hughes was program chairman for the day. Regarding the trained worker asked for the county to deal with neglected and dependent children, by a number of civic groups, including the League of Women Voters and the Women's Club, Mrs. John Elliott reported that provision to the amount of $10,000 is included in the current county budget.

Attention of the members was called to the fact that there is already provision in the state welfare budget to assist with such a service here and that a bill in regard to the welfare of neglected and dependent children is pending in the current session of the state assembly.

Next meeting will be February 23 at the Y.W.C.A. when the state rural child welfare worker from Beaver county will be asked to speak.

Batavia is properly the name of the island occupied by the ancient Batavi, an old Teutonic people. At a later date it became the Latin name for Holland and the whole kingdom of the Netherlands. The name Batavian Republic was given to the Netherlands on their new organization of 1795, until they were converted into the Kingdom of Holland under Louis Bonaparte, Napoleon's brother, in 1806.

Two-Year-Old Causes Damage

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Two-year-old Arlene Vallareo is being kept under close watch following a costly field day in a Camden grocery store.

The child wandered from the sun porch of her home yesterday and made her way to the store two blocks away.

Arlene's cousin found the runaway tossing bottles of processed baby food on the floor. The manager told Mrs. Vallareo her daughter had smashed a dozen jars.

Hot steel slabs are rolled to plates in two steps in the steel industry—roughing and finishing on 3-high rolling mills. Top and bottom rolls are motor driven, while the smaller center roll is driven by friction. When the plate reaches the desired thickness, it is rolled until level and then moved on to cooling tables.

Flexible Farm Price Supports Are Re-Indorsed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—

Directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation on Wednesday overcame opposition in their ranks and re-endorsed flexible farm price supports.

The bureau is one of the "big four" farmer organizations with a nation-wide membership.

Allan B. Klein, its president, said the board seemed to consider the Republican-passed Aiken-Hoppe bill "a pretty good law, worthy of thorough trial before any significant changes are made."

The bill provides supports on the six basic commodities—corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, peanuts and rice—ranging from 72 to 90 per cent of parity when acreage allotments or marketing quotas are in effect.

These rates are scheduled to become effective in 1950. Some farm bureau members favored continuation of the present flat 90 per cent of parity on basic commodities. The organization's recent convention at Atlantic City shunted the issue back to the board of directors.

Klein insisted, however, that the issues under consideration in the three-day board session have not been limited to the matter of flexible versus rigid supports. He explained:

Discussion has centered around the question of how best to gear in each commodity under the flexible price-support schedule of the act.

Increased Benefits Plan Is Endorsed

Manufacturer's Association Endorses Changes In Workmen's Compensation Laws

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Increased benefits under the occupational disease and workmen's compensation laws were endorsed today by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association.

In a letter to Senate Labor Committee Chairman James S. Berger (R) Potter and House Workmen's Compensation Committee Chairman W. Stuart Helm (R) Armstrong, PMA President G. Mason Owlett said it was "reasonably agreed" among the organizations membership that increased payments were needed to meet higher living costs.

"Moreover, I would like to call to your attention to the fact that there probably should be an increase in the limits for medical and hospital benefits because of the increased costs in those fields," Owlett asserted.

Keep Problem in Mind
"I know that the legislature will keep in mind the problem involved with the heavy industries and with coal mining in Pennsylvania, in which fields the compensation rates have a very great bearing on their competitive position."

"I am sure that no one wants to affect competition with those industries in other states," he said. Owlett pointed out that the PMA stand was predicted on Gov. James H. Duff's statement to the opening session of the General Assembly that "We should broaden the workmen's occupation and occupational disease laws at a level comparable with other states having similar industries with similar risks."

Copies of the letters were sent to Gov. Duff and Senate President Pro Tempore M. Harvey (R) Dauphin.

Business Is Now At Highest Level

Economic Experts Stated Pennsylvania Had Excellent Year In 1948

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 27.—(INS)—With industrial activity at the highest peacetime level and general business at the highest level on record, economic experts today termed 1948 a good year in Pennsylvania.

The Bureau of Business Research at Pennsylvania State college today reported that 1948 industrial activity was exceeded only by the war years of 1943 and 1944.

Using 1935-39 as 100, the index of industrial activity in 1948 averaged 189, a gain of 5 per cent over 1947. The index is based on coal manufacturing, and industrial production, employee hours in power sales.

General business in leading areas, as measured by bank deposits, factory payrolls, and industrial power sales, stood at 267 for the year, the highest average on record. The index also is based on the years 1935-1939 as 100.

Anthracite coal production in 1948 totaled about 57,350,000 net tons, a slight gain over 1947 but a loss from 1946. Carloadings in the Allegheny district were about 8,260,000 cars, a loss of 6 per cent from the previous year, but a gain over 1946. Crude petroleum was close to 12,800,000 barrels or about 1 per cent above that of the previous year.

Bank deposits, inflated by high prices and great prosperity, were up 12 per cent from 1947 and the highest ever reported. Building contracts awarded were approximately $770,000,000. A rise of 40 per cent over 1947 and probably the largest on record. Both high building costs and the large volume of permits contributed to the record figure, the bureau noted.

The electric power industry showed outstanding gains in 1948, production of electricity for both public and industrial use gaining about 10 per cent over 1947.

Factory payrolls, boosted by a high hourly wage and a general 40-hour week, in 1948 were at an all-time record and were 11 per cent above 1947. Factory employment, however, was stable, with 1,104,000 production workers being employed, about the same number as in 1947.

Physical production of factories in the Third Federal Reserve District was up about 2 per cent from 1947. In the Pittsburgh area, where industries are considerably more important, physical production was up more than in the eastern part of the state. In general, the durable goods industries did better than nondurable goods industries.

The steel industry of the state showed remarkable activity in 1948. Output in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown area amounted to 35,500,000 tons or 3 per cent more than in 1947. Output was a peacetime high with plants operating at 93 per cent of capacity.

About 310,000 new passenger cars and commercial vehicles were sold in the state, an increase of 10 per cent over the year before and the best since 1941. Demand was still strong at the end of the year but not as insistent as in the spring. The cost of living in the state climbed during the first three quarters and then showed some decline. At the latest reporting date, it stood at 175, the years 1935-1939 being 100.

The retail picture stayed bright for the first 10 months, then a slump was noted throughout the country.

New World Wheat Agreement Is Seen By Sec. Brannan

Agriculture Secretary Also Believes That Implications Will Go
Beyond Wheat Realm

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan expressed confidence that a new world wheat agreement can be drafted and said the implications "go far beyond the realm of wheat."

Brannan, chairman of the American delegation, made his statement at the opening of a 48-nation conference which will attempt to set up a system for regulating supplies and prices of wheat in international trade.

Brannan said the conference "reflects a growing realization of the need for cooperation in solving specific economic problems."

He added: "If we can work out a plan and the necessary administrative machinery to stabilize world wheat trading, it should give us experience and hope with which to tackle other problems which now haunt consumers and producers in this complex world of ours."

The big question marks in the conference are the roles to be played by Russia and Argentina.

Harris, Western Pennsylvania representative of the national foundation told the club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday noon.

Study Disease at Pitt

The sum of $148,000 has been set aside for research at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, where study will be made of how many different strains of polio there is and the type of vaccine needed to combat each strain.

Mr. Harris has supervision over 22 counties in Western Pennsylvania. From a most humble beginning in 1940 the foundation has become competently organized, ready at a minutes notice to move to an area where infantile paralysis has broken out and to bring the needed facilities for caring for any kind of an outbreak, large or small.

Pennsylvania is fortunately situated in that it has the facilities to care for a large-sized epidemic without creating additional hospital facilities but other communities where there have been large epidemics in the past few years have not been so fortunate and it was necessary to bring equipment from a considerable distance, along with nurses and physical therapists.

Can Visit Home

Mr. Harris stated that the sum of thirty million dollars could be used annually for research work and for caring for epidemics. The epidemics of 1946 and 1948 have left many persons who will require additional care for several more years before they are cured, he stated.

Chairman William R. Hanna stated that he has made arrangements to have any local groups who care to, to visit the Watson Home at Leechburg, where they can see at first hand the work which is being done in caring for those who are afflicted with this dread disease.

Two persons from Lawrence county are undergoing treatment at the present time.

Farewells were said to Harry Bowen and George Seamons, Junior Kiwanians who have been affiliated with the club during the past semester and who terminated their period of membership with yesterday's meeting. They were honored by the club and spoke favorably of the splendid experience it has been to them. They were invited to visit the club at any time they may be able in the future.

FOLLANSBEE, W. Va., Jan. 27. (INS)—Mrs. Rebecca Moore Carey, 100, oldest resident of Brooke county, died Wednesday in the home of her son in Follansbee.

Born in Rochester, Pa., Mrs. Carey was the daughter of a steamboat captain who transported Union soldiers during the Civil War and the grand-daughter of one of the pioneer settlers of Beaver county, Pa.

Mrs. Carey will be interred Friday in Oak Grove cemetery in Follansbee. Besides her son Alfred, she leaves another son, Frank, 27 grandchildren, 29 great grandchildren and five great-great grandchildren.

Further Funds Allocated For Western Relief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—President Truman on Wednesday allocated an additional $200,000 for disaster relief in the snow-bound western states.

The President directed that the government funds be distributed under the Bureau of Community Facilities.

Relief to the storm-stricken areas will be administered by Gen. Philip B. Fleming, director of the Federal Works Administration.

The $200,000 is in addition to the $100,000 disaster fund Mr. Truman allocated last Monday.

No states were named specifically in the President's order. However, the White House said that the funds are for relief in states west of the Mississippi river "affected by recent snowstorms and sub-zero temperatures."

The President directed Fleming to enter into negotiations with the governors of the affected areas for distribution of the funds.

Coalition Rejects Chairman's Choice For Council Post

Selection of Rep. Lesinski Of Michigan Is Repudiated By Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—A coalition of rebellious Democrats and Republicans on Wednesday repudiated Rep. Lesinski (D) Mich., chairman of the House Labor Committee, by rejecting his choice of an ex-congressman for committee counsel.

The committee voted 16 to 8 against accepting Frank Hook, a former House member and the defeated senatorial candidate in Michigan last fall, for the key $8,000 post.

Seven Democrats joined nine Republicans in dealing an unprecedented blow to the committee chairman's leadership.

After rejecting Hook for the counsel's job, a subcommittee was selected to name another choice. The subcommittee members will be Lesinski and Reps. Barden (D) N. C. and McConnell (R) Pa.

Lesinski said the new choice will be announced some time next week and submitted to the committee for approval.

The chairman said that most of the opposition to Hook arose from disputes he engaged in while a member of Congress.

The committee acted after questioning Hook for nearly half an hour.

Notwithstanding today's action, Lesinski announced that hearings would begin tomorrow on Legislation to boost the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

He also announced that Rep. Kelley (D) Pa., has been named chairman of a subcommittee to begin preliminary work on legislation to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

Four Lawrence County Engineers Listed In Who's Who

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Four Lawrence County men have satisfied the standards set up by the Engineers Joint Council for inclusion in "Who's Who in Engineering," which has just come off the press here.

The group includes LeRoy V. Clark of 203 East Garfield Avenue, assistant director of the research explosives department of the American Cyanamid Company, Robert A. Eckles of 341 Moody avenue, architect for the W. G. Eckles Company, Albert O. Knecht of 109 East street, chief engineer of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company, all of New Castle, and Stanley W. Kothe, structural engineer, residing in Ellwood City.

The first United States postage stamps was sold July 1, 1847, and since then there have been more than 500 varieties of stamps printed.

Ex-Police Judge Given Sentence

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Ex-Police Judge P. James Pellicchia, Jr., who admitted embezzling $630,000 to cover his horse-race losses, was sentenced in Newark's Essex county court Wednesday to 10 to 15 years in the state prison.

Once chosen as the nation's best-dressed jurist, Pellicchia showed no emotion when County Judge Joseph E. Conlon told him he had disgraced the judiciary.

Court House

County Tax Levy
Upped 1 1-2 MillsTentative Budget Shows
General Levy Of 5 1/2 Mills
—Institutional 1 1/2OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

The 1949 budgets, general, institutional and liquid fuel tax went on public display today.

From the figures shown in the budgets, the total tax levy for 1949 will be 7 mills as against 5 1/2 mills for 1948, an increase of 1 1/2 mills. One mill of the increase is found in the general budget which goes from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2. The other half is seen in the institutional budget which goes from one mill to 1 1/2 mills.

The budgets as they are now prepared and upon public display are entirely tentative. They will be upon display for 20 days after which the county commissioners will take action upon them. They may be adopted as they are or they may be changed to meet any changing conditions.

The general budget shows estimated receipts of $613,974.34, as against actual receipts of $661,125.40 for 1948. The probabilities are that the estimated receipts will be surpassed inasmuch as some increases in county assessments are expected.

The bulk of the estimated receipts is shown in the returns from the tax on real estate. A tentative valuation of $64,250,000 is shown at 5 1/2 mills.

Occupational assessments amount to $8,000,000 at 5 1/2 mills. Personal property assessments are set at $12,000,000.

In the estimated receipts is a balance of $170,885.59 on hand at the beginning of this year. This will have to last until July 1 when the taxes start coming in.

The institutional budget shows a balance on hand of $77,050.60 and with estimated income, an estimated total of $175,569.35 is arrived at.

The liquid fuel tax budget shows a balance of $104,266.14 on hand and an estimated income of $80,000.

Even with an increase of 1 1/2 mills the budget figures seem to be barely enough to carry through. Unless the estimated income is increased by actual income to a considerable amount, the total balance on January 1, 1950 looks as though it might be less than that of this year.

One capital outlay of 1948 will not appear in 1949. This was about $20,000 for the veterans' monument on the court house lawn. One capital outlay which has been considered—the improvement of the court rooms—has been left out of the budget for 1949.

The budget as set up shows only necessary maintenance and operation. It has been arrived at after considerable thought and planning by the county commissioners. Taxpayers who are interested can see the budgets by applying to the county commissioners.

RULE TO SHOW CAUSE

A rule to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against Sylvester Matuszewski has been handed down by Judge John G. Lamoree. The return date is February 4.

The injunction is sought by Philip L. McQuiston and Edna McQuiston and concerns an option given upon coal lands in Wayne township. It is set out that Matuszewski held himself out as an agent of the Bowie Coal Company and that the company would agree to strip mine coal under the land and restore the land after the coal had been removed.

The plaintiffs say they have investigated and find that the Bowie Coal Company is a legitimate company but that Matuszewski has no connection with it. They ask an order enjoining him from removing any coal. When it was necessary to serve him with the papers they say Matuszewski could not be found. A rule to show cause why the injunction should not be issued was asked and granted.

A similar injunction suit has been filed against Matuszewski by John R. and J. R. Burke.

ASKS ACCOUNTING

A suit in equity has been filed by Howard E. Criswell against Donald F. Hackett in which Mr. Criswell asks an accounting of the books of the Croton Hardware Company.

It is averred that on January 1, 1946 the two men entered a partnership to conduct the hardware store, Hackett to get two-thirds of the profits and Criswell one-third. Later an additional one-sixth share was sold to Criswell making it a fifty-fifty partnership.

On January 10, 1949 the plaintiff says the defendant insisted that he sell his interest to Hackett and this was done. Since then it is claimed Hackett has been collecting debts due the partnership and Criswell asks for an accounting.

Engstrom Says
Proposal Would
Hurt PittsburghC. Of C. Spokesman of Pittsburgh
Testifies In Hearing On
F. O. B. Mill Pricing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce spokesman told Congress Wednesday that a mandatory "FOB mill" pricing system will hurt his city's industry despite claims it would draw fabricators from other areas.

Birger Engstrom, vice-president of the Pittsburgh Chamber testified before a Senate Commerce Committee in support of a bill which would offset the Supreme Court's cement case decision by legalizing absorption of freight cost by producers selling in distant markets.

Engstrom told the committee that his organization is concerned about the plight of Pittsburgh's smaller manufacturers. He said these producers have to secure some of their raw materials from distant points, and must sell their goods competitively in distant markets.

Will Be Injured

He declared that if they cannot absorb freight costs to meet distant price competition, they will be injured. Engstrom said his group had conducted a survey of manufacturers. He reported:

"Based on this survey, it is the consensus that the enactment of remedial legislation is vital to Pittsburgh's future, despite indications of some that mandatory FOB mill pricing would be a special benefit to the community. The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce also supported the bill sponsored by Sen. Johnson (D) Colo."

Henry H. Brown, its spokesman, said that Cleveland's small businessmen "have no desire" for the "possible protection" which a ban on freight absorption might give them in their nearby markets. He added:

"They are willing to meet fair and open competition in the Cleveland market and desire to engage in that same competition wherever they find it possible."

Forty-Eight Nations
Make New Effort To Regulate Trade

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Forty-eight nations began a fresh try Wednesday at regulating world trade in wheat, with Russia and Argentina the big question marks.

The USSR and the Argentine, ranking among the "big five" exporting countries, boycotted a similar conference last year when the first international wheat agreement was worked out, but died for lack of ratification by the U. S. Senate.

This time the former hold-out countries apparently intend to be full-scale participants. Russia's delegation is headed by Sergei A. Borosov, deputy minister of foreign trade since 1943; Argentina's by Juan Scarpa, agricultural counselor of the Washington Embassy.

Agriculture Secretary Brannan, chairman of the American delegation and possible choice to head the conference, said his group will make "every effort" to get along with the Russians.

Brannan has indicated, however, that the old agreement will be the starting point for the new pact, particularly on the key issue of world wheat prices.

It was the attempt to regulate prices which caused Argentina to shy away from the 1948 agreement. Specific goal of the conference is to assure adequate supplies of wheat to importing countries and markets to exporting countries "at equitable and stable prices."

Pre-Entrance Exams For Nursing Class February 5

First pre-entrance examinations for the next class at New Castle Hospital School of Nursing will be held February 5. Sister Lawrence Mary, director, announced today.

Cooperating actively in the nation-wide nurse recruitment program, Sister Lawrence Mary said the school hoped to match last year's record of 24 in the entering class, the largest number recruited at the hospital in a peace-time year.

Girls taking the test will be entertained at an openhouse starting at 10:30 a. m. and at a luncheon in the nurses' dining room on the examination day. Tests will start at 1 p. m.

For Entrance Next September

Since there is no longer a mid-year class, tests given now are for entrance next September. Sister Lawrence Mary explained. There will be further opportunities to take the examinations shortly after Easter and again during the summer.

High school graduates "who give evidence of a satisfactory state of health, emotional stability, culture and desirable qualities of personality" are given consideration for admission. Interested candidates are asked to contact the director.

Sister Lawrence Mary is active in the general nurse recruitment program in this area, being a member of the Speakers Bureau of the Pittsburgh League of Nursing Education and a member of the Committee on Careers in Nursing sponsored jointly by the league and the Hospital Council of Western Pennsylvania.

Need For Nurses Critical

The National Student Nurse Recruitment Committee announced recently from headquarters in Chicago that 43,000 students entered school of nursing throughout the country in 1948, an increase of 5,000 over the previous year, and 42,000 more than in 1946. The need for more nurses is still critical.

Speaking of the educational program at New Castle hospital, Sister Lawrence Mary said:

"Although many girls think they would prefer to get their nursing education at a larger hospital, there are many advantages in a smaller one. Coming from a large hospital in Pittsburgh, I did not realize these advantages myself until I came here and saw how much more the girls are getting through smaller classes and more individual attention from instructors."

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—ac with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Sharing the Care of the Baby

Young mothers are sometimes so wrapped up in their new-born babies that they do not permit others—even their husbands—to share in the infant's care. A similar sort of thing may happen when there are older children in the family. Mother doesn't seem to trust them with the newest member of the family.

Such behavior, though understandable, is likely to be unfortunate in its effects. Both father and children may feel as though they were outsiders. Jealousy and antagonism thrive in this sort of situation.

It is important, too, for the developing baby to have others share in his care. Unless he begins to have contacts with persons other than his mother, he is likely to become one of those youngsters who develops rigid ways of behaving. Things have to be just so. Adjustment to new situations is difficult. Mothers who feel that they must be the only ones caring for their babies may well ask themselves, "Why do I feel this way? Why don't I trust my husband or the children to help?" The answer won't always come easily, but the questions may be the first step in moving toward a healthier sharing of the baby.

Public Opinion Polls Lashed By President Truman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—President Truman cracked the whip at his news conference today, lashing public opinion polls and steel prices.

The chief executive, who has held polls in disfavor ever since they began predicting his overwhelming defeat in the race for the White House, voiced sharp new criticism of the opinion-gauging systems.

Mr. Truman was told that the Gallup poll now shows that 69 per cent of the American people approve his program. Asked for comment, he replied heatedly:

No More Confidence Now
I have no more confidence in polls now than I had before the election. I never did have any confidence in polls. I make my decisions on the basis of what is right.

As to steel prices, the president said they are too high, and that he has thought so for some time.

This tart comment came when he was asked for his reaction on announcement by the United States Steel Corporation that the past year yielded the concern's highest profits since 1929.

The company also announced an extra dividend and a proposal for a three-way split of its common stock, and the president indicated he thought a price decrease might also be in order.

Mr. Truman summarily disposed of reports from England that the British government is seeking to buy more than 100 B-29 bombers from the United States.

He said he never heard of such a proposal.

Attends Double Funeral Services

Mrs. Frank E. Bailey, West Grant street, has returned from Harrisburg, where she attended funeral services for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Bell Moore, and Mrs. George Bell, mother of the latter, who died within a short time of one another.

Mrs. Moore was confined to a Harrisburg hospital and on January 20 Mrs. Bell had visited her. Returning to her home, the latter woman's clothing caught fire from a small gas stove, resulting in her death. Help reached her too late. On Wednesday, before the funeral, Mr. Bell suffered a stroke of paralysis and is in a critical condition.

Mr. Bailey has remained in Harrisburg for a few days pending the outcome of Mr. Bell's condition.

Indonesia Wages Lone-Handed Battle

Seeks To Stave Off Adoption Of U.S. Resolution By United Nations

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(INS)—Indonesia launched a lone-handed battle in the United Nations today to stave off adoption of a U. S. resolution which Indonesian Republicans regard as tantamount to exonerating Dutch military action.

Dr. L. N. Palar, the Indonesian representative at U. N., took the security council by surprise this morning in voicing a firm new demand for rapid Dutch withdrawals from positions occupied last December.

Palar's vigorous attack threatened a narrow line-up of seven votes in favor of the compromise resolution sponsored jointly by the U. S., Cuba, China and Norway. The four powers submitted some amendments to their own draft, without substantially bolstering the resolution's strength.

Palar declared that the Indonesian republic cannot be party to any settlement which fails to guarantee protection from further Netherlands aggression. He urged that basic provisions of the Asia conference proposals be incorporated in the four-power resolution.

Asks That Scott Be Replaced As G.O.P. Chairman

OMAHA, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Jacob France, of Maryland, introduced a resolution today at the Republican national committee meeting asking that the chairmanship be declared vacant and a successor to GOP Chairman Hugh Scott be elected.

France introduced his resolution after a long speech in which he charged that Scott, who was selected by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, appointed a "packed executive committee" favorable to Dewey and refused to aid Taft and Stassen supporters in the recent election.

Accused Russian Contact Man Nabbed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today that Sam Carr, accused Russian contact of the Canadian spy ring, has been arrested in New York city.

Carr has been sought since 1945 when the Royal Canadian commission charged that he actively recruited Soviet agents in Canada, was contact for Soviet officials and was active in collecting and transmitting secret and confidential information which was sent to Moscow.

The FBI said that Carr was arrested this morning at 1:15 W. 74th street in New York where he had occupied a basement apartment for the past two weeks.

Arlington national cemetery is located on the former estate of General Robert E. Lee.

Proposes Answer To Civil Rights Plan Of Truman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Sen. Russell (D) Ga., introduced legislation today aimed at redistributing the South's Negro population "equitably" throughout the nation.

In a Senate speech, the spokesman for Dixie Democrats made it clear that the measure is the southern group's reply to recommendations of President Truman's Civil Rights commission.

Russell's bill would set up a "voluntary racial relocation commission" with four and one-half billion dollars to spend over five years in finding new homes for Negroes who want to move and helping them get settled in new communities.

In its policy statement, the bill said:
"The purpose of this act is to reduce and eliminate racial tensions and improve the economic status of the American people by equitably distributing throughout the several (48) states those citizens belonging to the two largest racial groups who may of their own volition desire to change their place of residence."

an extension if present conditions continue, Royall explained that he was not prepared to take such action now.

Royall testified that voluntary enlistments in the army are larger than they would be ordinarily because of the draft. He said further draft inducements would be necessary if re-enlistments fall off.

The cabinet member also declared that "our best estimate does not indicate that war is imminent" but he said that war is "at least a possibility."

The nation's top civilian army official warned the legislators that for years to come the international situation will probably be fraught with danger for this country.

Senate Republicans Plan 'Town-Meeting' G.O.P. Discussion

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Senate Republicans laid the groundwork today for a "town-meeting" discussion of GOP philosophy at a "harmonious" conference which approved the appointment of a new campaign chairman.

The Republican members unanimously approved the selection of Sen. Brewster (R) Maine, as senatorial campaign chairman, and continued ex-Sen. Townsend of Delaware as co-chairman for the 1950 contests in 12 states.

At the same time, the minority senators:

1. Authorized their policy committee to prepare the agenda for a closed-door "town meeting" requested by Sen. Tobey (R) N. H. The liberal senator urged that Republican senators try to find unanimity on such controversial issues as social legislation.

Governor Duff Stands Firm On Highway Policy

Statement Is Aimed At Groups Opposing Plan To Increase State Gas Tax

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff's warning that he will fight any change in the state's highway policy burned brightly today in front of opponents of his plan for $200,000,000 road program in the 1949-51 biennium.

his position in a brief speech before delegates to the 10th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Road-side Council in Harrisburg yesterday.

The governor's statement was aimed at rural and oil industry groups which have promised to oppose Duff's recommendations to the general assembly for a two-cent hike in the state's four cent a gallon gasoline tax to enable the multi-million dollar program to continue unhindered.

"My policy may be changed by a new governor," Duff stated, "but the policy won't be changed while I am governor of Pennsylvania."

Duff pointed out that the state's 41,000 mile highway network has been a major factor in attracting new industry to the commonwealth.

"If there is any doubt of its value, I would like to point out that we have had the greatest increase of industry in Pennsylvania than any other state," he asserted. "It (the highway system) has done more to bring this business into Pennsylvania than any other single factor."

The governor emphasized that "it is impossible for us should desire to surrender" at this time any of the advantages brought by the highway network.

Service Division

There will also be a reunion of the members of the Rose Croix Class, which received its degrees last fall, on Friday evening. Both activities will be held in The Cathedral.

Industrial Day
In March Of DimesToday Is Being Observed
As Contribution Day In Local Industries

Today is being observed as Industrial Day in the annual March of Dimes campaign. Chairman Russell H. Forney stated today.

Kiwanis club members have distributed cans to the industries which are participating, and arrangements have been made with the management of these concerns to see that all employees have an opportunity to give.

The goal for Lawrence county has been set at $10,000, which means only ten cents per person, and if all share in the job, the goal can be easily attained.

Trucking Industry
In County Reaches
Large Proportions

Statistics released by the research department, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, reveal that the trucking industry of Lawrence county has reached substantial proportions.

The capital investment of the industry in the county has now reached the sum of $11,908,613, it is announced. The industry has a total capital investment in the state of $1,457,000,000.

The trucking industry has an employment of 3,163 in Lawrence county with an annual payroll of $7,908,000. Employment in the state is approximately 344,000, exceeded only by agriculture, and the annual payroll is in excess of $862,000,000.

State gasoline taxes and license fees paid for the 3,954 trucks in the county amounted to $332,496 in 1947, while special federal taxes boosted the total to more than $405,032.

ARCHBISHOP IS ENTHRONED

ISTANBUL, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The Archbishop Athenagoras of New York was officially enthroned amid colorful traditional ceremonies today as ecclesiastical patriarch of the Greek Orthodox church.

The Patriarch, whose sympathies are known to lie with the West, became head of the faith of millions of Christians in the critical Middle-East, in the ancient ritual of the Orthodox church.

IN SPORTS' LAND

CHIEF TOPIC of conversation along Cauliflower Row, a lane patronized by youths with lumped ears, battered nasal organ and broken knuckles, is a Billy Pozza vs. Rizieri Ronzi battle. Because of his quick knockouts, Pozza has become an invincible disciple of punch, and there are some in his own profession, who, because of envy, would like him shorn of some of his success. On the other hand, there are those who believe he is one of the best heavyweight prospects produced hereabouts, and with proper direction and handling, may go places.

Whether or not the match can be made, remains to be seen. The night when Jack Biddle lost to Young Higgins and Pozza knocked out Johnny Fulton, Signor John Loccasano, director of Pozza, gave the impression a match with Ronzi was to his liking. Later, however, he asked for day or two to think about the proposed match. However, the grapevine says that Pozza, having fought for several years, has won no place of prominence, and short of fat purses, has a yearning to bask in the pugilistic limelight and increase his bank roll, hence indications are somewhat brighter for the match than a month or two ago.

Among those who have written letters stating they are opposed to an open doe season are:

Charles Gearin, R. D. 2; Paul Grdneck, R. D. 9; Gerald Hayes, 645 Boston avenue; Albert Houston, 14 Point Place; C. L. Hunt, Volant; A. P. Hutsler, Volant; Henry Ivanejko, 1005 N. (To be continued tomorrow)

Doesn't appear as though a freeze will arrive in time for the proposed ice carnival planned by the Optimists for Mahoning rink, January 30. . . . Jack Biddle fights Danny Boy Williams, Monday night in Detroit, after which he will continue westward to the Pacific coast. . . . Morgan Waters, former local boy, now operating a hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., writes Here & There, that Jimmy Dunn, former New Castle fighter, and Cleveland boxers' manager, visited him. . . . Haven't heard from Jimmy Ellison, former First ward constable, for some time. Last heard of he was working in a California shipyard. . . . Preliminary reports on the 1948 deer kill to the game commission show 30,000 legal bucks killed. Autos killed 3,700 and bucks killed illegally, number 4,500. . . . Possibly Sam Shade, game protector of the county, can inform Here & There how many deer were killed by autos in Lawrence County in 1948. . . . There were 1,791,550 rabbits killed last year, less than in 1947 and 277,254 ringnecks were killed which was about 50,000 more than in 1947.

New York Yankees
Present Big "If"By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Few major league clubs will present as many "ifs" as the New York Yankees this year.

The club could win a pennant. It also could fall apart and finish in the second division. It is that kind of club.

The Yankees have several sound ball players. Perhaps as many sound as any other in the American league.

Some of these players fell off lamentably last year. If they can recover they 1947 form, one might tab the Yankees as likely pennant winners.

New Manager
But old ball players, like old fighters, rarely come back.

However, the Yankee front office thinks they can and will under their new manager, Casey Stengel.

The Yankees have a real problem back of the plate. If Bill Dickey, now a Yankee coach, can teach Yogi Berra even the simplest fundamentals of catching, the club will have no problem there, because Yogi can hit. If Dickey fails with Berra, the Yankees will have to rely on Gus Nahrhos, Charley Silvera and Ralph Houk, all of whom can't catch but can hit.

The infield poses three problems. Can the veteran Babe Young stage a comeback at first base? Can George Stinnett come back at second? Will Phil Rizzuto's bum arm be okay? Bill Johnson can take good care of third base but the others are very dubious, to put it mildly.

Need First Baseman
The Yankees will try out Joe Collins, Dick Kryhosky and Jack Phillips at first base and if none makes the grade, they may bring Tommy Henrich in again from the outfield and put Berra out there.

Joe DiMaggio, with his bad heels apparently in good shape should be the big punch again. Of course, if anything should happen to him, the Yankees could start looking immediately for a nice soft berth in the second division.

Henrich figures to be as good as ever but Charley Keller is another real problem. If Keller should clock as of old, the Yankees could have the best outfield in baseball. But that's a big if.

Harsh Doubtful
The pitching has at least three question marks behind it, named Frank Shea, Joe Page and Allie Reynolds.

Two years ago Page was the best relief pitcher in baseball. Last year he was not so hot. Shea wasn't much help last season and Reynolds was no world beater.

Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat figure to do well again and the Yankees are hoping Fred Sanford may develop into a winner. Bob Porterfield is still a question mark but Tommy Byrne might prove a big winner. Tommy surely could if he learns anything about control.

We seem to have listed about a dozen ifs which is far more than any pennant-conscious club should be expected to carry.

On that basis we'd hate to bet on them to beat out the Indians and Red Sox. They might do it but the odds are all against them.

Evening Meeting
For Economics Group

It was announced today that the home economics meeting for the women of the Big Beaver community will be held in the home of Mrs. Samuel Beatty, which was announced for 8 p. m., will take place at 1 o'clock.

This will be a program planning meeting for all women of the Big Beaver district, Miss Patricia Kelly, home economics extension worker, states.

Plenty of coaches say Thrower is the best high school passer they ever have seen, but none say it more emphatically than Ambridge High's Moe Rubenstein. And he should know.

The Pittsburgh Steelers have signed Jerry Nuzum, 205-pound halfback from New Mexico A & M, for the 1949 season. Nuzum was the first man from last year's squad to sign again.

Among the more seasoned eight furlong runners who will be running again this year are Gerald Karver, former college champion, Tommy Quinn, present national champion, Traver Perkins and Jack Twomey, Illinois A. C. and Roland Sink, Los Angeles A. C.

Former Boxing Champ
Carnera has a few things going for him. In the first place he has the publicity angle centering around his having been the world boxing champion.

He won that title with an eye-brow-lifting performance against Jack Sharkey and lost it to Max Baer.

Carnera also has all the strength implied by the fact that he was a European circus strong man when he was spirited away one of at least a half dozen champions extinct at the time.

Who Is Champion?
Guess who is world's champion now?

None other but a sterling athlete that nobody ever heard of, his name being Frank Sexton.

The funny thing about this situation is that a little bird just hopped up on the office window sill and whispered quietly that Primo Carnera is going to wind-up as the world's wrestling champion.

The angle is to build up the former world's heavyweight boxing champion as the first dual champion in history.

Carnera has been drawing big crowds around America for several months and his popularity will be capitalized upon to the hilt. The fact that Carnera can't wrestle doesn't enter into it. Neither can any of the rest of the groaners.

TEMPLE ISRAEL
FRIDAY SERVICES
Sabbath services at Temple Israel will be conducted Friday at 8 p. m., with Dr. Iwan J. Gruen in charge.

His sermon topic is "Skyscrapers of Truth".

The death in England of Sir Malcolm Campbell was strange because it wasn't a violent end behind the wheel of a speeding automobile. The British daredevil died quietly in bed.

Washington Senators Will Help New Castle Mid-Atlantic Team

League Will Hold Meeting Here Feb. 6

Definite announcement was made in Erie today, by General Manager Michael Cannavino, of the New Castle Chiefs of the Mid-Atlantic league, that a working agreement with the Washington Senators will be in effect for the 1949 season.

Cannavino also announced that the Middle-Atlantic league, will hold its big schedule meeting at the Castleton hotel this city, at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 6th. This marks the first time a meeting has been held other than Butler.

"You can say for me that New Castle is getting a 'New Deal' in baseball, we intend to put a winning club in the field this summer," Cannavino informed Charles "Bugs" Walther, News sports writer today.

Under the leadership of Manager-Player Billy Mongiello, New Castle will be among the top teams in the league this year, if present plans work out. Washington will supply New Castle with some material, although it is not to be an outright farm club.

Obtains Player Strength

Cannavino while not a liberty to divulge names at the present time, did say that he has secured several star hurlers, outfielders and a good first baseman for New Castle this year.

None of the 1948 team will be back, it was announced. Mongiello has several good players in mind for New Castle.

Cannavino announced that plans are under way for the selling of season reserved boxes for New Castle this year for $50.00 for the home games, which may be 70 and not 63 as in 1948.

Split Season

A tentative opening date at Flaherty Memorial Field is May 3rd. There will be a split season this year, the winner of the first half meeting the winner of the second half for the title, in a best out of seven "Little World Series." This proposal was made by Cannavino and adopted by the league.

New Castle is elated at being chosen the meeting place of the league officials and club owners, for the first time. New Castle is looking forward to a great 1949 season on the baseball field.

C-I LOOP SCHEDULE

Tonight's schedule in the popular C-I league pits the challenging American Legion quintet against B. and O. in the first game at 7 o'clock.

Shenango Pottery meets Local No. 69 in the second contest at 8 and El Fityet takes on United Engineering at 9.

Frankie Moran Defeats Kezele

Ronzi Receives Bad Cut Over Eye In Bout With Freddy Schott

Frankie Moran, New Castle welterweight, last night in Akron, won a hard fought eight round fight from Joey Kezele of Warren, O. It was a slugfest from start to finish. Moran scored a knockdown for a count of nine in the second round, according to Johnny Lucciano, manager of Moran.

Lucciano reported that Ronzi, Youngstown heavyweight, received a severe cut over his left eye in his fight with Freddy Schott, and will not be able to fight for several weeks hence it is doubtful if a proposed Ronzi-Billy Pozza fight for February 9 can be held, until later.

Hornets Trounce Washington 9-1

(By International News Service)

The Hershey Bears defeated the Springfield Indians, 3-0, at Hershey last night to increase their second place grip in the eastern division of the American Hockey league.

Philadelphia's Rockets surprised the Cleveland Barons, western division leaders, 9-5, at Philadelphia before 2,500.

The Pittsburgh Hornets trounced the Washington Lions, 9-1, at Pittsburgh.

The Aero Game Feeding club has a job on its hands to supply the right amount of food at the right time, and in the right proportions. Besides, there is a lot of territory to cover if they are going to feed all the starved wintering wildlife. Deer have been seen in every nook and corner of Pennsylvania.

The Aero Game Feeding club at Karthaus, Pa. northeast of Clearfield, was founded by George Narehood two years ago, when he noticed that game was starving near his airfield between Karthaus and Snowshoe, Pa.

"March Of Dimes" Game Friday—Elks vs Ecclesiastics

St. George Upsets Epworth 53 To 51

As far as New Castle basketball is concerned Friday night's benefit doubleheader at George Washington Junior High is a "natural." New Castle Elks are scheduled to meet the fast stepping Ecclesiastics Club in the main go at 8:45. In the prelim, Shenango Pottery meets United Engineering. This game is booked for 7:30.

The Elks and Ecclesiastics are two of the four teams currently tied for first place in the City-County basketball league. Friday's contest, although billed as a benefit for the "March of Dimes" and sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, will be a regular loop tussle and will no doubt have a great bearing as to who will be the eventual winner of the circuit.

Elks Squeeze By

These game two clubs met last Saturday night on the same floor, and the Elks emerged victorious in the very close contest by a 48 to 46 margin.

Some of the best talent in the county performs regularly for these two clubs. All will be out in force Friday evening to add another victory to their team's total and at the same time, do their bit for a very worthy cause. The Elks line-up boasts of such local stars as Fred Wimer, Bob and Hob Jackson, Don Watters, Bill Ero, Tim Koonce, and Rich Baxter. Against this formidable array the Sammy Bullano coached Ecclesiastics will pit Sammy Clazza, Red Ross, Pete Stack, Lou Kreuger, and Tommas to their roster and already had Eddie Jacobs, Bob Pitzer, Diz Santangelo, Joe Cooper, Al Christopher and Lefty Tanner. Wayne Gray, Benny Korab and Harp Janacone have been sparkplugging the United Engineering as of late and should give the Potters a good battle.

Rivals In Prelim

In the preliminary game, two of the top notch clubs from the Civic-Industrial league, with a natural rivalry, will clash. The Potters have recently added Joe Thomas to their roster and already had Eddie Jacobs, Bob Pitzer, Diz Santangelo, Joe Cooper, Al Christopher and Lefty Tanner. Wayne Gray, Benny Korab and Harp Janacone have been sparkplugging the United Engineering as of late and should give the Potters a good battle.

Louis Berkheimer is in charge of the benefit game committee for the Kiwanis and he has been capably assisted by George Patterson.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets are now on sale at Eckerd's Drug Store, Ecclesiastics Club, Gerson's and the Elks'. Ducats may also be purchased at George Washington Friday evening. Adult prices are $7.50 each and the kiddies will be admitted for $4.50. All ticket holders will be entitled to witness some of the highest class basketball being played in New Castle this year and at the same time get behind one of the biggest crannies of children and adults in this country, infantile paralysis. All proceeds from the double header will be given to the March of Times.

Eagles Club Defeats Wampum, Fair Stars

With the recently injured "Peck" Humphrey back in the lineup at center, the Eagles club quintet won its second City-County loop game last night at the Wampum High floor, defeating the Wampum Merchants 55 to 47.

Humphrey controlled the ball off the backboards all night. Big Jim Fair finally found his eye last night and blasted the hoops for 22 points, with Pace having 14. Humphrey had nine points, Eddie Marich and Scala led the Wampums in scoring.

The Eagles are looking forward to the Saturday night meeting with the powerful Elks at Washington High floor in the big rivalry battle. The Eagles are confident that they have started a long winning streak in the league. They have lost several hard luck games by three-point margins to the leading teams. Bill Patton is the coach.

Score by quarters: Eagles 10 22 18 14 55; Wampum 10 14 14 13 47. Referee: Haines.

K. Pulaskis Win Fourth Of Season

The K. Pulaski "Big Five" won its fourth straight game at home last night defeating the Croton team of the church league 53 to 45 with "Blackie" Ryczaj and Joey Danish in starring roles. The Pulaskis led the entire way, and at the half it was 34 to 12. Nelson and Adams led the Crotons in scoring. Pat Patterson played his usual fine defensive game.

Score by quarters: K. Pulaski 13 14 16 10 53; Croton 12 10 11 12 45. Referee: Haines.

Senesky Scores 36 Points In Game

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27. — (INS)—Paul Senesky, St. Joseph's college center, hit a season's high of 36 points as the Hawk five beat Elizabethtown College, 77-62, last night. He plunked in 14 field goals and eight fouls.

Senesky, however, failed to erase the floor mark of 44 points set by his brother George, now a Philadelphia Warriors star.

Frank Keath, Elizabethtown's 1948 state scoring leader, paced his team with 22 points.

CASEY AND HIGBE SIGN CONTRACTS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today had two more "satisfied" players. They are pitchers Hugh Casey and Kirby Higbe who, the club announced Wednesday, have inked their 1949 contracts.

Roller-Hockey Game Sunday

The New Castle Yellowjackets roller-hockey team will play the Flamingo team of Pittsburgh at the Arena floor Sunday at 4 o'clock. This is a league match. For excitement and action there is no sport any better than roller-hockey. The locals coached by Lee Stoops have a fine record to date.

Last Sunday the Yellowjackets defeated Glassport at the Arena 5 to 1, in the opening match of the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

Sons Of Italy To Honor Champions

Frank Ross, athletic chairman of the Sons of Italy club, has announced that on the night of February 26, the club will honor its two championship teams—softball and golf. A gigantic banquet is planned, with Al Scarazzo as general chairman of the event. It was announced that Mike Sebastian, former Pitt star, and now coach at Rochester High, will be one of the speakers. Quite a number of sports celebrities will be present.

Business College Wants Floor Games

The New Castle Business College basketball team would like to book games with all fast clubs in this city and in Lawrence County, on a home and home basis. The Business College team among recent games defeated the East Side Shamrocks 51 to 43 with Bruce and Brucker starring.

Monday, the NCBC team will play East Brook at the Franklin High court. For games call 936 between 9 and 4 o'clock.

The New York Giants present their one-man team for 1949, all signed, sealed and delivered. That would be socking Sidney Gordon, the most versatile player to wear the uniform of the Giants for many years.

Pitt Grid Coach Principal Speaker At McPeak Dinner

Movies Of Two Pitt Wins Also To Be Shown At Testimonial Here February 12

Mike Milligan, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh, today accepted the role of principal speaker for the testimonial dinner at The Castleton Saturday, February 12, in honor of Bill McPeak.

McPeak is the popular Winslow avenue resident who captained the Golden Panthers to its most successful season in years in 1948. McPeak also played more than a half in the annual East-West Shrine Bowl game to climax a brilliant four-year career of varsity football for the gridgers from the skyscraper university.

Paul Brown, head coach of the professional Cleveland Browns, with whom Bill has signed to play next season, has informed the committee that he will be unable to attend the gathering here due to previous commitments.

To See State Upset However, Mike Milligan has promised to bring Josh Williams, assistant coach and former Pitt All-American with him to the dinner. Also movies of the Pitt-Purdue and Pitt-Penn State games will be shown following the dinner and speaking part of the program. These two wins for Pitt vaulted them from the position of an also-ran into a place among the top teams in the country. According to McPeak, Pitt played their best game of the year against Purdue, and the Penn State affair was one of the biggest upsets of last year's grid campaign and ended a State winning streak that extended over two seasons without a defeat.

Other Guests

The committee has promised to have a delicious full-course chicken dinner served promptly at 6:30. Tables will be set aside for Pitt Alumni or members of McPeak's high school class if enough of their reservations are received. Other New Castle residents who are members of the Pitt squad have been invited to attend the banquet as guests of the committee. These include Tony Razzano, Lindy Lauro, Sam Haddad and Robert Lee. In addition, Leo Skladany, Pitt varsity end for four

Lions Club Benefit Draws Happy Crowd

The Lions Club gave the people of New Castle a premiere of the world famous Donkey Olympics, last night at the Arena, on Grove street, and the show drew between 1,000 and 1,200 laughing spectators.

The show was a benefit for the Lions Club Blind Fund. The children of the Margaret Henry Home were special guests of the Lions and they enjoyed the antics of the donkeys and riders immensely.

Lions Outdo Selves

There were six contests on the card, two being eliminated due to not enough participants. It was a hilarious evening of fun, and the crowd roared its approval. The staid dignified members of the Lions Club outdid themselves as entertainers.

It was laugh-a-minute show all the way and there were few dull moments. The basketball game as usual went over the biggest with the crowd.

Very Fine Job

General Chairman Richard I. Davis while a little disappointed at size of the crowd, was satisfied that the people had gotten their money's worth and had enjoyed many laughs.

The Lions worked hard to put the show over and deserve a big hand, for their efforts. The members of the Little Beaver Lions Club of Darlington did a fine job in helping out.

The lovely New Castle High school cheerleaders who acted as personality pep girls were: Mary Lou Rocks, Esther Lindstrom, Barbara Marquis, Barbara Homan, Allene Morrow, Phyllis McKenzie, Barbara Jackson, Ann Meehan, and Bobby Spears. The girls got a big hand as they enacted their various cheers and drills, and helped pep the show up. The girls opened the show on a very fine note, accompanied by the fine New Castle High orchestra under the direction of Professor Joseph Replogle.

The orchestra gave out with many stirring tunes prior to and during the show.

Acting as judges of the various contests were: Mayor John Haven, Henry Broad, president of the Lions club, and Charles Lumley, well known local druggist.

Sheriff Frank "Jewie" Coen acted as referee of all contests. Following are the New Castle Lions who participated in the show, riding donkeys and clowning: Tom Fletcher as "Zobo" the clown, Richard I. Davis, general chairman, Bob Moorehouse, Frank "Gibby" Doerr, William Bowen, Dave Bowen, Waldron Curley, Claude Penkins, and Bill Smit and Joe Windl.

The following from the Little Beaver Lions club of Darlington took part: Keith Watterson, Wayne Russell, Earl Watt, Homer Schadle, "Dogs" DeGraw, and B. Watterson.

The parts of announcing the show were taken by Byron McConnell of WKST as Bill Stern, and Charles "Bugs" Walther of The News as Ted Husing.

The show was staged and directed by Miss Minnie B. Riley of Kansas City, Mo. The Lions realized quite a nice sum for their Blind Work Activity Fund. The Tail Twisters did a swell job of handling the details.

Dewitt Denies Browns Rumor

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27. — (INS) — William O. Dewitt, vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Browns, said today he knows nothing about a report that he and his brother, Charley, have purchased a controlling interest in the club.

Dewitt said: "You can say for me that there is nothing to the report."

Richard C. Muckerman, president of the Browns, could not be reached for comment.

However, it is known that Muckerman would be willing to part with his holdings. He has said that he is ready to listen to any "good offers."

SHORT SPORTS

American League teams will engage in 241 exhibition games—132 of them against National League clubs—by way of preparing themselves for the 1949 pennant campaign.

Waterfield's three-year contract with the Rams calls for $18,000 a year. It expired after last season, and the Rams have until May 1 to pick up an option on the future services of their star passer.

Dan Sandiver of the Washington Redskins intercepted 13 passes during the 1948 National Football league season to lead the loop.
